Chester Hill Mishap

Driver Hurt In Rig Plunge

A 46-year-old Dallas (Tex.) trucker is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when his rig veered off the Route 30 hill near Chester and plunged over an embankment, spilling five large steel rolls along the highway.

Grant District Constable Harold Davis said either a faulty transmission or blown tire may have caused the rig, headed downhill, to leave the road.

The heavy steel rolls were hurled from the trailer — one smashing into a stone wall at the home of Frank Everhart, "pulverizing it," Davis said. Another of the rolls—of a type used in steel mills—rolled some 150 feet down the highway.

Davis said it was fortunate that no cars or other vehicles were on the road and in the path of the rolls.

The 1959 rig, owned by the C. & H. Transportation Co. of Dallas, landed with the cab on its side and the trailer almost on its back.

Attempted Break-In At New Orleans' Integrated School

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Policemen repulsed 100 or more teen-agers today trying to break into the grounds of McDonogh No. 19 public school, one of two integrated Monday for the first time.

The teen-agers defied police orders to stay on the opposite side of the street from the three-story school.

They circled the block and tried to gain entrance to the school where three Negro girls came to first-grade classes this morning, accompanied by six U.S. marshals.

Mounted police and foot patrolmen tried to hold the white youths back, but they scattered in all directions.

At the William Frantz school, several children walked along the opposite sidewalk carrying signs reading "We don't want a federal dictator" and "Keep the nigers (sic) away."

There were reports that less than 250 pupils of the total combined enrollment of 1,000 attended classes at the two schools.

Police arrested a man at the Frantz school and hustled him away. Officers said he was carrying a concealed weapon but it turned out to be a toy pistol.

"We're not going to let our children go to school here as long as there's niggers," one said.

One federal official, asking that his name not be used, said earlier that "If we are going to have violence, it'll come Tuesday."

Police Supt. Joseph Giarruso estimated he had about 100 men around the school, McDonogh No. 19. One bomb threat had been received, he said, but officers discounted it.

Amphibian Plane And Copter Go Down Near Same Location

MANILA (AP)—Two U.S. Navy plane crashes at approximately the same spot today claimed the lives of 10 persons including the admiral commanding the base at Subic Bay.

Killed along with Rear Adm. Arthur F. Spring, 52, was his wife, Clare, 52.

Also killed were the admiral's aide, Lt. (j.g.) Karl Ziegenhagen, Gary, Ind.; the pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Wade K. Smith, Clinton, Tenn.; the copilot, Lt. (j.g.) Kenneth Cowles, whose father, Frederick, lives in San Marino, Calif.; and Airman Cecil G. Johnson, whose father lives in Kansas City, Mo.

Four more men, including a U.S. Marine and three Philippine constabulary personnel, were killed when their helicopter crashed shortly after noon near the wreckage of the ill-fated amphibian carrying the Spring party.

Their names were not immediately disclosed.

They were among eight aboard the helicopter, which was dispatched from the carrier Hornet to the spot where the amphibian had crashed.

Of the eight, the pilot and copilot were uninjured. An American Navy doctor was slightly bruised and a U.S. enlisted man suffered minor burns.

Two U.S. Air Force paratrooper medics later jumped to the remote area where the admiral's plane crashed and found the victims. There were no survivors.

The Springs attended a military dinner-dance at Manila Monday night. They were flying back to Subic Bay.

The wreckage of the Albatross was found about 2,700 feet up Mt. Mariveles on Bataan Peninsula, overlooking Subic Bay where the United States maintains its key base for supporting 7th Fleet operations in the South China Sea.

Spring, from Laconia, N. H., starred in football and lacrosse at Annapolis, where he was graduated in 1930.

He won the Navy commendation ribbon while a gunnery officer on the cruiser Louisville off Guadalcanal in World War II and later commanded the heavy cruiser Helena. He assumed command at Subic in February 1959, after serving as chief of staff of the 7th fleet.

Shooting Case Suspect Held To Grand Jury

BULLETIN!

Robert Salsberry, 34, of 208 W. 7th St., was held to the Grand Jury under $1,500 bond today in Municipal Court at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on Albert Barnes, 65, of Sugar St., a night clerk at the Travelers Hotel. Barnes was the last prosecution witness to testify. The defense offered no testimony and the hearing ended at 11:45.

Robert Salsberry, 34, of W. 7th St., accused of shooting a night clerk at the Travelers Hotel last May 8, may put up a plea of self-defense, it was indicated in his counsel's cross-examination of prosecution witnesses as a preliminary hearing got under way today in Municipal Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Salsberry entered a not guilty plea this morning before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge filed by Lt. Mike A. Winters alleging he wounded Albert Barnes, 65, of 506 Sugar St. in the hotel lobby early that Sunday morning.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, defending Salsberry, asked questions of the state's witnesses to indicate that the hotel clerk fired the first shot at the defendant and then a struggle for the gun ensued in which Barnes was shot through the hand.

Lt. Winters testified under cross-examination that Barnes admitted to police that "he shot Salsberry first."

Today's hearing grew out of the incident in the hotel in which Salsberry was wounded in the groin and Barnes was shot through the hand and suffered other injuries as a result of the struggle with the defendant.

The testimony of Lt. Winters and Patrolman E. R. Furgason, first officer to arrive on the scene, occupied the first 40 minutes after the hearing opened before Judge Chertoff. Then the hearing was recessed briefly. Officer Furgason was first to testify, followed by Lt. Winters.

Furgason related that he was notified by radio to go to the hotel about 4:20 a. m. He said he found Barnes and Salsberry struggling

151 Children Die In Syria Theater Fire

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The worst fire disaster in memory killed 151 children in a movie theater at Amude, 400 miles northeast of here on the Turkish border. A man also died trying to rescue screaming children trapped in the flames.

Almost every family in town lost at least one child in the roaring blaze Sunday that started with an explosion in the projection room. It quickly spread through the wooden ceiling and walls of the movie theater, where the children had gathered to see an educational film at a special showing.

The panicky shrieks of children trapped inside mixed with the cries of their parents trying to save them. Many parents dashed frantically through the flames, plucking children to safety, press reports said.

Except for Mohammed Said Eldakoury, 30, all the victims were 14 years old or younger. Eyewitnesses reported Eldakoury saved 11 children but lost his life trying to save a twelfth.

Press reports said the theater had only one exit, but about 350 children managed to crowd their way out. Then the flaming wooden roof collapsed.

Assault Jury Told Of Auto Pinning Man

Trial Continues In Race Track Case Of Wellsburg Father

NEW CUMBERLAND — The trial of a Wellsburg father of four charged with attempted murder of a Waterford Park guard by pinning him with a car last summer continued today in Hancock County Circuit Court.

The jury this morning heard testimony from an eyewitness to the incident at the track June 26 when Steve Yurka, 48, of New Cumberland was crushed against a steel fence by the defendant's auto.

Donald Eugene Saunders, 31, of Wellsburg R. D. 3 is charged with attempted murder and felonious assault, accused of pinning Yurka against the fence with his auto after an argument near the stable gate.

Mrs. Beulah Norton of New Cumberland testified yesterday afternoon that she and her husband, Leonard, were in an auto directly behind the Saunders car when the incident occurred.

She testified her husband pulled Saunders from his auto after Yurka was pinned to the fence and

One of two men injured when a train struck their car early Monday on the Walnut St. crossing died yesterday afternoon, some 7 hours after the crash.

Gerald W. Murray, 37, of Rockwood, Pa., died at 12:45 p. m. at City Hospital. Suffering head injuries, he never regained consciousness.

Mr. Murray was a passenger in a car driven by Paul Clevenger, 23, of Markleton, Pa.

The two men, employed by a firm clearing brush from the Ohio River bank under a government contract, were en route to work when the crash occurred.

The death was counted as a highway fatality, the 23rd this year so far. There were 25 at this time last year.

Heading south on Walnut St., Clevenger had crossed the westbound tracks when the diesel hit the auto on Mr. Murray's side of the car. The car was shoved onto the railroad spur, a few feet east of the crossing.

The Wood Funeral Home of Rockwood, Pa., is making funeral arrangements for Mr. Murray.

Didn't Offer Nixon Post, Kennedy Says

May Give Cabinet Or Top Position To Gov. Ribicoff

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy was reported today to have discovered that Vice President Richard M. Nixon has reservations about the idea of Republicans taking key positions in the new Democratic administration.

Kennedy, winner over Nixon in the presidential election, is understood to have sounded out the vice president on this matter at their history-making conference Monday at Key Biscayne, Fla., where Nixon is vacationing.

Kennedy returned to his headquarters here immediately after the 63-minute meeting and prepared to confer at lunch today with a Democrat who may get a Cabinet post or some other top position in the Kennedy regime. He is Connecticut Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, a key advisor to Kennedy during the campaign.

Kennedy told a news conference after his session with Nixon that he did not offer the vice president a post in the new administration.

But sources in a position to know said Kennedy discussed with Nixon the possibility of naming some Republicans to important positions, particularly in the fields of foreign policy and national security.

Nixon, it was understood, did not speak flatly against the idea. But he is known to question whether—against the background of the hot contest he gave Kennedy on the popular vote—it would be wise from the standpoint of his party's future for renowned Republicans to join the Kennedy team.

Both the president-elect and Nixon called the Kennedy-instigated conference cordial and frank.

U.N. Troops Quit Katanga Danger Areas

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—U.N. troops, menaced by growing bands of hostile tribesmen, began pulling out of danger areas in north Katanga today.

Heavy patrols of Irish and Ethiopian troops, stationed in northern areas for several weeks, began arriving back at their headquarters at Albertville.

A U.N. spokesman said the United Nations will have to revise its methods of operation against the superstitious tribesmen.

He said Irish troops were withdrawn completely from the area around Niemba—scene of an ambush of an 11-man Irish patrol last week in which 29 men were killed—nine of them Irishmen.

The Katanga government claimed rebel Baluba tribesmen were massing in bands up to 5,000-strong in the north in readiness for a large-scale offensive. A spokesman warned that the rebels are likely to attack the U.N.-protected town of Albertville.

Proud Fliers Say 'Routine'

Air Force Grabs Second Satellite Capsule In Sky

HONOLULU (AP) — The U.S. Air Force did it again Monday, plucking a Discoverer satellite capsule out of the skies for the second time.

Proud airmen declared the catch was routine.

Snared in the 250 by 50-mile "ball park" 500 miles northeast of Honolulu was the military spy capsule ejected by Discoverer XVII.

The first 12 Discoverer capsules were lost in the vast Pacific. Number XIII was the first recovered, although it landed in the ocean and was retrieved by a Navy frogman dangling from a helicopter.

On Aug. 19, a C119 Flying Boxcar made the first catch of an object from space. That was Discoverer XIV's capsule.

Discoverer XVII's capsule was bagged. The Flying Boxcar that gulped it, appropriately dubbed Pelican II, made the catch like an outfielder who does it up fancy after losing the ball in the sun.

The Pelican II was piloted by Capt. Gene W. Jones, 39, of Walla Walla, Wash. Jones and his nine-man crew almost missed their rendezvous.

His plane was late leaving Hickam Air Force Base because of a fuel leak. Then, in the northern area of the "ball park," Jones' crew spotted the capsule's silver and orange parachute against the clear blue Pacific skies and made a run for it at 11,000 feet.

Citywide Canvass Slated For Muscular Dystrophy

More than 350 women volunteers will make a house-to-house canvass of the East Liverpool area Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30, seeking funds in the annual Muscular Dystrophy drive.

In addition to East Liverpool proper, the drive will cover Calcutta, Glenmoor, LaCroft and the Substation area.

Mrs. George Beck is chairman of the women volunteers and Mrs. Hugh McTeague is co-chairman. Mrs. A. J. Brown is treasurer of the drive and Miss Florence Farrar is publicity chairman.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin is honorary chairman of the county-wide drive, which opened on Nov. 1 and will continue through Nov. 30. Women of the Moose are in charge of another phase of the drive — collection of funds in coin containers in business places.

Mrs. Beck said 350 to 400 women will make the household fund appeal Sunday. They will wear distinctive badges, she added. There are 29 team captains.

More than 40,000 volunteers will join in the house-to-house effort in Ohio, all part of the annual campaign of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc. They will seek funds to push on with research and patient care.

Over 200,000 are victims of muscular dystrophy, two - thirds of them children. The drive has been staged annually for 10 years.

The Council caucus room at City Hall will serve as headquarters for the drive Sunday. A report on

Raid Cases Postponed Third Time At Chester

Hearings scheduled Monday night for two men cited in connection with a raid at the Chester American Legion Oct. 21 were again continued by Mayor Ray Collins and Squire Eugene Allison.

A hearing for Ray Gilliland of Carolina Ave., steward charged with illegal possession of liquor, was postponed by the squire because Gilliland is serving on a federal jury at Wheeling.

A hearing for Mike Kiszczak of Florida Ave., doorman cited for interfering with officers in the riad, was postponed by Mayor Collins for further study. The mayor led the raid on the post home because of suspected liquor sale violations.

Boy Suffers Wound

LISBON — Thomas Price, 16, of R. D. is in "fairly good" condition at the Salem Central Clinic after being shot accidentally Monday at 4:30 p. m. near Dungannon by John Evans, 16, as the boys were duck hunting, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan. Evans' shotgun went off accidentally, striking Price in the hand.

Proud Fliers Say 'Routine'

Air Force Grabs Second Satellite Capsule In Sky

HONOLULU (AP) — The U.S. Air Force did it again Monday, plucking a Discoverer satellite capsule out of the skies for the second time.

Proud airmen declared the catch was routine.

Snared in the 250 by 50-mile "ball park" 500 miles northeast of Honolulu was the military spy capsule ejected by Discoverer XVII.

The first 12 Discoverer capsules were lost in the vast Pacific. Number XIII was the first recovered, although it landed in the ocean and was retrieved by a Navy frogman dangling from a helicopter.

On Aug. 19, a C119 Flying Boxcar made the first catch of an object from space. That was Discoverer XIV's capsule.

Discoverer XVII's capsule was bagged. The Flying Boxcar that gulped it, appropriately dubbed Pelican II, made the catch like an outfielder who does it up fancy after losing the ball in the sun.

The Pelican II was piloted by Capt. Gene W. Jones, 39, of Walla Walla, Wash. Jones and his nineman crew almost missed their rendezvous.

His plane was late leaving Hickam Air Force Base because of a fuel leak. Then, in the northern area of the "ball park," Jones' crew spotted the capsule's silver and orange parachute against the clear blue Pacific skies and made a run for it at 11,000 feet.

350 To March Sunday

Citywide Canvass Slated For Muscular Dystrophy

More than 350 women volunteers will make a house-to-house canvass of the East Liverpool area Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30, seeking funds in the annual Muscular Dystrophy drive.

In addition to East Liverpool proper, the drive will cover Calcutta, Glenmoor, LaCroft and the Substation area.

Mrs. George Beck is chairman of the women volunteers and Mrs. Hugh McTeague is co-chairman. Mrs. A. J. Brown is treasurer of the drive and Miss Florence Farrar is publicity chairman.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin is honorary chairman of the county-wide drive, which opened on Nov. 1 and will continue through Nov. 30. Women of the Moose are in charge of another phase of the drive — collection of funds in coin containers in business places.

Mrs. Beck said 350 to 400 women will make the household fund appeal Sunday. They will wear distinctive badges, she added. There are 29 team captains.

More than 40,000 volunteers will join in the house-to-house effort in Ohio, all part of the annual campaign of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc. They will seek funds to push on with research and patient care.

Over 200,000 are victims of muscular dystrophy, two - thirds of them children. The drive has been staged annually for 10 years.

The Council caucus room at City Hall will serve as headquarters for the drive Sunday. A report on

Lisbon Council Given Report On Pool Costs

LISBON — Council was told Monday night expenses of operating the Sadie VanFossan swimming pool for the summer period of 3 months exceeded income by $1,160.

Clerk - Treasurer Ray Hempstead gave the following report:

Balance of $144.83; receipts, $3,448.39; receipts from general fund from Council, $1,150.10; refreshment stand rent, $100; refund from Ohio Bell Telephone Co., $5.70 for total receipts of $4,704.09, and expenditures including wages, $1,994.32, insurance, $400.40; power, $567.94; gas, $49.57; supplies, $138.33; repairs, $1,544.72, and miscellaneous, $19.20, for total of $4714.48, leaving a balance of $134.49. The clerk said this should cover any outstanding bills he has not received.

Council authorized payment of $30 to the state volunteer firemen' dependent fund. Council originally paid $300 with stipulation that when the fund went down to 95 per cent, an assessment would be made by the state auditor who handles the fund.

Firemen requested installation of a phone as soon as the Board of Public Affairs moves to its new offices.

Mayor Dean Stockman reported on the meeting yesterday with the county commissioners, trustees and mayors group in regards to a countywide Civil Defense organization.

He advised that he expects a letter from the commissioners that he will read to Council its next meeting.

Council also discussed the levy defeated last Tuesday and will meet Dec. 1 to go over the budget for possible economies. Councilmen also discussed the cleaning streets of snow which they feel will have to be curtailed if this winter is as bad as last year.

Courtney Pennell, Lisbon manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., invited Council to visit the Brinker pumping station on the Lisbon-Leetonia Rd. and councilmen will convene at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 28 for the visit before the regular meeting.

Loses Clemency Plea

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A convicted second - degree murderer, Raymond C. Clark, 28, has lost his executive clemency appeal. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Monday refused clemency because, DiSalle said, Clark has not demonstrated an ability to take his place in society. Clark was sentenced from Hamilton County for the 1954 slaying of Elgin Skinner, 28, a Cincinnati musician.

CAB Delays Service For Cincinnati Route

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has postponed start of air service on a route between Cincinnati and Washington-Baltimore until Dec. 1. The board wants more time to study numerous petititions for reconsideration of its decision in the Great Lakes Local service case.

The Cincinnati - Washington-Baltimore route, one of those involved in the case, includes Portsmouth, Ohio; Parkersburg, W. Va.-Marietta, Ohio, Clarksburg - Fairmont, W. Va., and Elkins, W. Va.

Industry Club Sets Meeting

Plans for the monthly meeting of the Industry Borough Women's Club were completed at a meeting of the Executive Board Friday night in the home of Mrs. Jack M. Peck of Industry Heights. It will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Ohio View School.

Mrs. William Chapman, president, conducted brief business.

Tickets for the Christmas project were distributed. Proceeds will be added to the yearly budget and must be in by Dec. 1, Mrs. Lysle Bradshaw, ways and means chairman, said.

Mrs. Paul Chmara, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Peck will tour the Beaver County Times offices Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sunday School teachers of the Ohio View Lutheran Church met Monday night in the pastor's study and pledged $1,000 toward the purchase of the Spencer house property for additional school space.

Two movies, "Manila Calling" and "Custom's Agent," will be shown Friday night from 6:45 to 10 in Fellowship Hall.

The annual Luther League dinner will be held Sunday at 5:30 p. m. in the hall. Members will be contacted during the week by Marilyn Cowan, chairman, on what each is to bring.

The pastor, James N. Servey, and several advisors will accompany league members on a skating party Tuesday, Nov. 22, at Hookstown. The group will meet at the church at 6:30.

Choir rehearsal will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m.

The first school for girls in Turkey was opened in Istanbul in 1858.

Rev. Bowman To Move

Calcutta Pastor's Change Is Approved By Presbytery

Transfer of the Rev. Marven O. Bowman Jr., pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church, to the Beaver-Butler Presbytery was approved at a stated meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Monday afternoon in the First church in Steubenville.

Approval of the transfer clears the way for Rev. Bowman, pastor of the Calcutta church for the last four years, to accept a call as minister of the Center United Presbyterian Church in Slippery Rock.

Rev. Bowman, a native of Lackawanna, N. Y., was graduated from Bob Jones University at Greenville, S. C., in 1951 and resumed his studies in 1954 at the former Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary while serving as a student pastor at the Williamsville (N. Y.) Christian Church.

He accepted a call as student pastor of the Chester and Oakland churches in Hancock County in 1955, serving until June 1956, when he was transferred to the Calcutta church. He was ordained and formally installed as pastor in June 1957.

In other business, the Presbytery approved the formation of the Beaver Valley larger parish to serve the Madison, West Beaver and New Lebanon congregations.

The Presbytery also received word that the Rev. Charles Baya, a member of the Presbytery, was drowned off Okinawa where he was serving as an Air Force chaplain.

Representatives of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary showed films and discussed a campaign now under way to raise $5 million in the next three years for expansion.

The Rev. G. Robert Geyer of Mingo Junction, moderator, presided. The next meeting will be Jan. 10 in Uhrichsville.

"Moderator's Night" was observed at a special service last night in observance of the 150th anniversary of the host church.

Dr. Herman L. Turner of Atlanta, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States, was the principal speaker on his official visit, and then was guest of honor at a reception.

Others participating in the program were Dr. E. Hoyt Kerr Jr. of Newark, moderator of the Synod of Ohio; Rev. Geyer; Dr. Harry R. Roach of Columbus, executive of the Synod; the Rev. George W. Jenkins of Carrollton, General Presbyter of the Presbytery, and Dr. George U. Martin, pastor of the host church.

Appoint Committees

Two project committees were named when Newell volunteer firemen met Monday night in the station.

Named as a committee to investigate means for purchasing a newer fire truck were Gene Lytton, Mike Gibas, Arch Coen, Ed Mercer and Charles Lee.

Earl Flesch, Lee and Norman Mercer were named to proceed with plans to construct a building adjacent to the station to store fire-fighting equipment and other articles used by firemen.

Assault

Norton began beating Saunders with his fists. The defense claims that Yurka had provoked a fight by hitting Saunders and that the resulting blows to the head had caused Saunders to become dazed and unable to remember what had happened.

The argument apparently erupted when Yurka, chief guard at Waterford Park, refused to permit Saunders on the property because his auto did not bear the proper sticker.

Okey Sipes, who was parked in a truck behind the Norton auto, was being questioned today. Dr. H. L. Hegner of Wellsburg also testified today.

The jury of eight men and four women also heard testimony Monday afternoon from Yurka, owner of Club Daily Double near New Cumberland, Anthony Laneve of Newell, former track guard, and Ed Frankovitch, a sheriff's deputy.

As the first witness of Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton, Yurka testified that he was serving as sergeant of the guard staff at the track when Saunders entered the grounds in his auto.

The Wellsburg man's car did not have the required identification sticker pasted to the windshield that track guards use in deciding those patrons who are authorized to enter the grounds.

Saunders, however, produced a sticker he had placed under the sun visor in the inside of the auto. Yurka said he told Saunders he was keeping the sticker until Monday and warned Saunders of the danger of speeding on the grounds.

Saunders then became angry and wanted to "fight," Yurka testified. Under cross-examination by Atty. William Conklin of Chester, Yurka said he weighed 278 pounds when the incident occurred, but now weighs only 215. Saunders weighs about 125, standing 5-foot.

Saunders was asked by Yurka to follow him to the stable gate where the chief guard blocked the entrance by parking his auto diagonally in the roadway. He walked to Saunders' auto and requested an identification card issued authorized personnel by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau.

Saunders then attempted to retrieve the sticker Yurka had taken from him. Yurka testified that Saunders "came at me, and hit me with his right fist in the head." Yurka used a "billy club" to push Saunders away, but did not strike him with the stick, he testified.

Atty. Conklin, in pointing out he was "trying to establish the creditability of the witness," then fired the question at Yurka, "Do you permit the sale of alcoholic beverages in your tavern?"

Prosecutor Pietranton's objection was sustained by Judge J. Harold Brennan and a quick huddle of the attorneys followed at the judge's bench. It apparently was decided that Yurka did not have to answer the question.

Laneve, a Newell school teacher, testified he was on guard duty at the track with Yurka and helped remove a knife that Saunders had in a sheath strapped to his belt.

Yurka and Saunders appeared to have a "heated argument" near the gate, Laneve testified. Laneve said that he removed Yurka's car from the gate because it was blocking traffic. He overheard Yurka order Saunders "to get that car out of here."

Later, Laneve said he heard a crash and a scream. Looking back, he saw Saunders' auto had crashed through a 4-foot high steel fence. Yurka was pinned under the car and Laneve said he "noticed someone trying to get the driver out."

Laneve and two other men pushed the auto backwards and removed Yurka from under the vehicle.

He was followed on the stand by Deputy Frankovitch, who was questioned on the accuracy of 14 photographs he took of the gate area the day following the incident.

The jury spent some time looking at detailed maps and charts prepared of the gate area concerning the position Saunders' auto was parked prior to the time Yurka was injured.

Rev. Bowman To Move

Calcutta Pastor's Change Is Approved By Presbytery

Transfer of the Rev. Marven O. Bowman Jr., pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church, to the Beaver-Butler Presbytery was approved at a stated meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Monday afternoon in the First church in Steubenville.

Approval of the transfer clears the way for Rev. Bowman, pastor of the Calcutta church for the last four years, to accept a call as minister of the Center United Presbyterian Church in Slippery Rock.

Rev. Bowman, a native of Lackawanna, N. Y., was graduated from Bob Jones University at Greenville, S. C., in 1951 and resumed his studies in 1954 at the former Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary while serving as a student pastor at the Williamsville (N. Y.) Christian Church.

He accepted a call as student pastor of the Chester and Oakland churches in Hancock County in 1955, serving until June 1956, when he was transferred to the Calcutta church. He was ordained and formally installed as pastor in June 1957.

In other business, the Presbytery approved the formation of the Beaver Valley larger parish to serve the Madison, West Beaver and New Lebanon congregations.

The Presbytery also received word that the Rev. Charles Baya, a member of the Presbytery, was drowned off Okinawa where he was serving as an Air Force chaplain.

Representatives of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary showed films and discussed a campaign now under way to raise $5 million in the next three years for expansion.

The Rev. G. Robert Geyer of Mingo Junction, moderator, presided. The next meeting will be Jan. 10 in Uhrichsville.

"Moderator's Night" was observed at a special service last night in observance of the 150th anniversary of the host church.

Dr. Herman L. Turner of Atlanta, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States, was the principal speaker on his official visit, and then was guest of honor at a reception.

Others participating in the program were Dr. E. Hoyt Kerr Jr. of Newark, moderator of the Synod of Ohio; Rev. Geyer; Dr. Harry R. Roach of Columbus, executive of the Synod; the Rev. George W. Atty. Conklin, in pointing out he was "trying to establish the creditability of the witness," then fired the question at Yurka, "Do you permit the sale of alcoholic beverages in your tavern?"

Prosecutor Pietranton's objection was sustained by Judge J. Harold Brennan and a quick huddle of the attorneys followed at the judge's bench. It apparently was decided that Yurka did not have to answer the question.

Laneve, a Newell school teacher, testified he was on guard duty at the track with Yurka and helped remove a knife that Saunders had in a sheath strapped to his belt.

Yurka and Saunders appeared to have a "heated argument" near the gate, Laneve testified. Laneve said that he removed Yurka's car from the gate because it was blocking traffic. He overheard Yurka order Saunders "to get that car out of here."

Later, Laneve said he heard a crash and a scream. Looking back, he saw Saunders' auto had crashed through a 4-foot high steel fence. Yurka was pinned under the car and Laneve said he "noticed someone trying to get the driver out."

Laneve and two other men pushed the auto backwards and removed Yurka from under the vehicle.

He was followed on the stand by Deputy Frankovitch, who was questioned on the accuracy of 14 photographs he took of the gate area the day following the incident.

The jury spent some time looking at detailed maps and charts prepared of the gate area concerning the position Saunders' auto was parked prior to the time Yurka was injured.

Make A Note To Fix It

Every think-piece written about the 1960 election contains a remark about what an unholy mess the electoral college is.

There's a move afoot among Republicans to demand recounts in enough states to upset the Democratic majority in the electoral college.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, slated to be Democratic leader of the Senate, says he will introduce a bill to abolish it.

In the length and breadth of the land, no one has a kind word to say for the Electoral College.

Instead, as happens every four years after the presidential election, millions of steamed-up patriots are snorting what they always snort when they rediscover the Electoral College: "Whose crazy idea is that? Why don't we get rid of it?"

The Founding Fathers had no more idea than so many rabbits how to elect a president. They went 'round and 'round and finally did what we still do when stumped. They dumped it into the lap of a committee.

The committee did what committees always do. It tried to please everybody and ended up by pleasing nobody. It invented the Electoral College.

Before George Washington stepped down from the presidency, this monstrosity was under fierce attack. So many plans have been drawn to get rid of it, make it over, turn it upside down, or melt it down and recast it that even historians have not kept track of them.

The only people who have made any attempt to understand the Electoral College are hard-bitten political professionals who cherish it precisely because it is a monstrosity that they know how to use for their own purposes. Thus, today, amidst the clamor for getting rid of the blankety-blank Electoral College there are no complaints whatsoever from old-line southern Democrats and big-city Democratic bosses—the strange bedfellows who had the most to gain if John F. Kennedy could put together an Electoral College majority. They didn't exactly "plan it this way," but they are mightily pleased that it turned out this way. It saved their bacon.

Under any conceivable alternative, their candidate either would have lost the 1960 election outright or now could be in such a quandary that the anxiety for him—and his backers—would be unendurable.

ONE CONCEIVABLE alternative in particular is interesting to consider—the oldest of all the Electoral College "reforms" ever proposed and the only one ever given a trial, although on a limited scale.

It would provide for the votes for president to be cast by actual electors chosen in electoral districts, instead of in job lots by states as they are chosen now. The catch in the job-lot system is that a presidential candidate who may lose out in the state by a handful of votes loses all the electoral votes; his backers waste their votes.

This is how Democrats have preserved the one-party states in the South. It simply makes no sense for Republicans to vote when their votes mean nothing. Yet even in Georgia and Louisiana these days Republicans do trudge to the polls to throw away their presidential votes, knowing they are throwing their votes away.

If they voted by districts, they would have a chance. The power of big-city Democratic steamrollers would be taken out of presidential politics. New York City's 45 electoral votes would be divided about 50-50, instead of being lopsidedly bestowed on one candidate.

Have You Given?

Volunteer workers continue to knock on doors and press for the return of filled-in pledge cards in the Community Fund campaign.

Progress is being made, but much hard work remains if the goal of more than $82,000 is to be reached.

While the public holds the final answer, the burden for seeing that every effort is made to have the people come through rests with the workers. Too early discouragement has no part in a fund campaign. The drive must be pushed relentlessly if a successful climax is to be reached.

To the people, again we urge: Give to the best of your ability. To the volunteer fund workers: Keep plugging away. You have something worthwhile to sell in the form of continued programs by six deserving agencies — the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, YMCA, Salvation Army, Recreation Council and the USO.

New Name For Something Old

Don't bet there won't be a United States Peace Corps—a voluntary organization of young U.S. collegians serving struggling new governments—within a year.

The idea was brushed over lightly during the presidential campaign when Sen. Kennedy said he favored draft exemption for young men volunteering to serve their country in this nonmilitary way. But if it comes up in Congress, it could become a major point of foreign policy.

Actually, it would amount to nothing more than giving a new name to something old that has taken varying forms. Young Britons already are performing this service under a program that has been in operation since 1958. Instead of being college graduates, they are mostly high school graduates waiting for a chance to get into college, a problem in Briton that seems certain to be bothersome here in the near future.

The young Britons, moreover, are volunteers, as were their fathers, grandfathers and great-grandfathers of yesterday who went forth from the homeland to bear the administrative burdens of the British empire.

In other times, thousands of young men and women missionaries have lent a hand to struggling people; they are still doing this. Young collegians have gone from campuses in the United States to their original homes in other parts of the world to help build better societies.

Many of the young Japanese who raised their country to first-class status were educated in the United States. Many of the young men helping to set up a government in the Congo were educated in Britain; a few generations ago all the young Asiatics who were making civil careers in India, Thailand, Indochina, Ceylon and China had gone to school either in Britain or the United States.

There would be nothing revolutionary about a peace corps of young people representing the United States. The only thing new would be the name—the name and the possibility that service in the corps would be allowable in lieu of military training for young men.

4-H Achievement

Adults and teenagers in the rural areas work around the clock day after day on the various enterprises that play such an important part in both their lives and the affairs of the communities in which they live.

When one reads of the achievements of such as Carolyn Sue Wilson of near Newell and Kenneth Markle of Weirton the value of such rural programs is brought into sharper focus.

Carolyn and Kenneth have just been honored as the outstanding 4-H Club girl and boy in Hancock County. With the awards, they join those who have gone before in 4-H work and at the same time set a goal for those who will follow.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Idaho is shipping 1950 crop of potatoes pre-skinned! Not a "spud" will go into the market that will wind up in a pan in a housewife's lap.

This will cheer the modern wife whose lot has been made softer by the small, easily swept home, the electric dishwasher and the all-done-by-push-button kitchen.

The pre-peeled spud or striptease potato will be welcomed, but its effect on the energy of the American woman can be bad. Life is being made so easy for her she may feel she is a victim of cruel and unusual punishment if she has to take eggs with the shells on or whip up an apple-strudel with apples that have skins on.

Husbands, we think, will be a little slow to cheer all this. The wife patiently peeling potatoes has constituted a traditional picture of home life.

Home and the potato knife seemed sentimentally linked. Potato peeling got the missus home early from the bridge party and movies. Whistler's Mother would have been an even more impressive painting if she had a pan in her lap and a few potato skins on the floor.

But the skinless spud will have wide popularity and we can't understand why neither Kennedy nor Nixon said a word about it in campaign pledges.

ELECTRONIC COMPUTERS made it possible to get election results as early as 7 p.m. Now for the electric brain which tells who won 48 hours before the polls open.

Police and firemen in many cities are taking on extra jobs because of difficulty making both ends meet. In New York it's a current issue, with police commissioner banning it, while fire commissioner okays it within limits.

A cop puts his life up for grabs every time he goes on duty in age of ruthless crime. He should get more money. Nobody can see a fireman up there on a slippery ladder in a blizzard and begrudge him a few extra dollars.

Nevertheless it is hard to cheer the idea of policemen and fire fighters answering calls when fagged out from overwork. A cop has to battle to the death with criminals who are never exhausted from double-duty.

A fireman is up against arsonists and careless folks who are no gluttons for extra work. In a fight it is the gangster who is refreshed and far from weary. Let's face it. . . .The pay is too low and the tired cop or fireman you get may be your own fault.

VOICE FROM THE PAST

My teacher was a kindly guide;
Her sufferings were somewhat wide
To school and back she used to hike—
She left no message "Out on strike."

II

She had it rough, I oft surmised,
But she was never unionized;
She never said, "Go home, my dears,
I've got to join the pickateers."

Not Even A Chance To Relax

A Story Behind The Negro Vote

By Victor Riesel

Long after the departure of you-know-who permitted Harlem's Hotel Theresa to slip back into the obscurity of uncelebrated hotel service, there was quiet drama there of far more importance to this nation and perhaps the world.

Victor Riesel

It could be said among sage observers, that what occurred on the hotel's top floor in the three weeks before Election Day really helped Jack Kennedy win.

This is especially true if what the national Republican leader, Thurston Morton, said is politically accurate.

The senator from Kentucky surmised that Dick Nixon was badly hurt by the defection of the multi-million Negro vote.

There is on the Hotel Theresa's top story radio station WLIB. Its appeal is beamed at the huge New York Negro community. There is a score of other such stations throughout the land in cities with heavy Negro populations.

ONE OF THE MEN guiding WLIB's programs is an imaginative fellow by the name of Morris Novik. His agility in these matters is matched only by his coolness in emergencies—as when he was the last man off the sinking Andrea Doria.

Because of his talents, Novik has long been labor's own "Mr. Radio," the adviser on broadcasting to the AFL-CIO itself and much of the labor movement. He was, therefore, with labor chief George Meany at the Los Angeles Democratic convention.

In the hours right after Lyndon Johnson's nomination, Novik had it figured swiftly that the Republicans naturally would hit the southern Democrats on the "civil rights issue."

The New Yorker outlined a plan to Meany for a hard-hitting radio offensive in Negro communities in the last three weeks of the campaign.

Novik, also broadcast adviser to labor's political machinery, COPE, then contacted Mrs. Roosevelt, ex-Sen. Herbert Lehman, Senators Wayne Morse, Paul Douglas and Hubert Humphrey, John Kennedy and, after some discussion, Adlai Stevenson.

They agreed to tape record special speeches of 6½-8 minutes each.

These were aimed at the Negroes who had been slipping away from the Democrats ever since Franklin Roosevelt.

THE SPEECHES were on the civil rights theme—arguing that the Republicans were at fault. The talks also appealed to the economic yearnings of the Negro community —on medical aid, housing, social security and minimum wage.

Then, at the cost of $750, these seven tapes were dispatched to 22 stations in such big Negro voting areas as Baltimore, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles and even Clayton, Mo., where the steel union sponsored them. The tapes were fit into 15 minute broadcasts.

In each community the broadcats were sponsored by a union or a citizens group for Kennedy or the local Democratic party.

In each area a leading Negro—such as a minister, a labor leader, a doctor, a city councilman or a judge—preceded the taped celebrity on the air.

Such a program was advertised locally as "Hear Judge So-and-So and Mrs. Roosevelt."

IN ADDITION to these 22 stations, Walter Reuther's auto union spotted the broadcasts on its own 18 station network.

Thus the publicity apparatus was saturating all big Negro areas when on Monday, Oct. 31, the Rev. Martin Luther King was interviewed on WLIB in the Hotel Theresa.

He spoke of his arrest in Georgia. He said as head of a clergyman group he had to be neutral. But he said of Jack Kennedy:

"I feel Sen. Kennedy took a very significant stand in this whole thing —(Rev. King's arrest). He took a courageous stand because Georgia happens to be one of the southern states he was sure to carry.

"His courage. . . .in my unjust arrest meant he was risking the possibility of losing a lot of support in the white community. . . .If a man would do this while the campaign was going on, it does demonstrate that, if elected, you can expect something forthright and positive. . . ."

In a few hours this was integrated in the radio network programs Novik had begun preparing three months earlier. It swung the undecided Negro vote. And that helped to swing the election, says Sen. Morton.

Top Reds At The Summit

By William L. Ryan

For a week world Communist leaders have been meeting at the summit. All the secrecy surrounding their sessions cannot hide a growing nervousness.

One basic point of cleavage worries them more than any other. It is not the question whether war is inevitable, nor the question of how Communist-ruled nations should develop internally. These are side issues.

The big quarrel concerns expansion of the Communist movement. This pits the leadership of Red China, Albania and possibly even the East Germans, backed by some chieftains from parties outside the Soviet orbit, against Nikita Khrushchev and most of the satellite leadership.

Black limousines have been scurrying back and forth through the Kremlin's turreted gates, bearing Communist chieftains to and from summit sessions. One gets the impression there is tough talk going on which will result in publication of a new manifesto.

The new pronouncement will be loaded with platitudes about the unbreakable solidarity of the Red camp under Moscow. But indications are that the leaders are making little progress toward patching up the main differences among them.

The big argument is this: Red China, backed by some dissidents from other Communist parties around the world, objects to Khrushchev's economic aid plans, especially with respect to underdeveloped countries. The Chinese resent any aid which tends to lend political stability to any government which is not Communist-oriented. Throwing Lenin's words at Khrushchev, the Chinese insist that only violent revolution can lead to dictatorships of the proletariat.

Khrushchev's men urge patience and caution. They promise to use Soviet economic policy as "a main influence for world revolution," but project their program over 20 years. They promise to unfold this program at the next—22nd—Soviet Communist party congress, probably early in 1961.

The quarrel has made an important figure of Wladyslaw Gomulka, chief of Poland's Communist party. He is considered the only pro-Khrushchev man who has the ear and the respect of the Chinese Communists. Khrushchev appears to have few other real friends to whom the Chinese will listen.

The Chinese Reds do not want to wait until 1980 for the real beginning of a world revolution. Neither do many of the Communist leaders outside the Soviet orbit, who smell the heady scent of power now and who in 1980 would be too old or too dead to enjoy the fruits of a long-range Soviet program. They complain that Khrushchev sacrifices their interests for the sake of purely Soviet aims and policies.

All this tends to put the Chinese Communists in the light of being the greatest danger to world peace today. The big peril could well be that the Red Chinese and their supporters might prevail.

That would mean pressures would be stepped up quickly in all the world's critical areas. The world Communist movement then would be relying principally upon piling chaos upon chaos in attempts to expand communism's rule and influence as swiftly as possible. There would be real danger then of global conflict.

Thus, while the Red quarrel eventually could lead to an explosion in the Kremlin, there would be little in this for the free world to cheer about.

Outmoded System

By David Lawrence

Risks In Our Method Of Election

Do the American people have the faintest idea of what they have done to their government by their votes on election day? Do they know the dangers and even possible tragedy of transition in government as one administration takes over from another?

David Lawrence

Someday the American people ought to be told the whole truth so they will be persuaded to change the present system, which is antiquated and ill suited for a nuclear age.

What better time, for instance, for a foreign government to begin playing with fire and to precipitate a crisis than today?

Virtually all the administration's top policy makers and experienced officials must begin to pack their bags. Their interest now turns to their private affairs. The workload is going to be somebody else's responsibility in a few weeks anyway.

As for the knowledge and experience accumulated in nearly eight years of service, these are to be tossed away as a new personnel takes over and starts to learn what it is all about.

Sen. Kennedy is a conscientious individual, who will try to make a good president but he must learn first the intimate background of public affairs.

THIS TAKES not a few weeks but many months and perhaps years. It's a high price for the nation to pay.

Is there some other way? The British and many other English-speaking countries have a better system. It is called the "parliamentary" system.

It requires the electorate to pick in an election their representatives in the national legislature and these representatives select the leader who becomes responsible for the executive as well as the legislative branches of the government.

If the party in power makes mistakes and loses the confidence of the people, it can be ousted at any time, or a new legislature can be elected.

A permanent personnel, known as the "carrer service," functions continuously in high posts irrespective of the party in power. Thus is continuity assured and transition made smooth and effective in the shortest possible time.

It isn't a perfect system, and the American people could doubtless improve upon it with certain safeguards but it is a Democratic system and one that is immediately responsive to the will of the people.

Thus, when an American president is elected, he can make serious blunders but he cannot be ousted for four years except by the impeachment process. This is a long time in modern government. Back in 1913, just before his inauguration, President-elect Woodrow Wilson was asked his views on the then proposed constitutional amendment limiting a president to a single term of six years as recommended in the 1912 Democratic national platform.

MR. WILSON wrote a letter to Congress in which he said rightly that four years is often too long a time before the nation can get a new president and sometimes too short a time to give to a man who has initiated a reform program that the people might desire.

He hinted then that the United States might someday come to some form of responsible government by Cabinet, which, of course, describes the parliamentary system.

This writer has always opposed the two-term limitation for presidential tenure and has contended that no limit should be placed on the terms that a chief executive could serve but that he should be held accountable after two years to a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress.

Certainly there is need to study thoroughly the present system. Thus, out of the nearly 67 million votes cast this week, the narrowest of margins —less than a half of one per cent — separates the victor from the loser.

A few states are given large electoral votes because of their large population, but within those states the big cities have a power superior to those of the smaller communities. The system is obviously inequitable.

It has been suggested that the electoral vote be apportioned on the basis of congressional districts and that a majority within a state shall not be given the right to cast the entire electoral vote of a state, as happens today.

REFORMS are plainly needed, and it is interesting to note that Sen. Mike Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate—who is slated to succeed Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas in the leadership post — is in the forefront of those advocating a reform in the national election process.

Sen. Kennedy is an attractive personality and shows much promise but the fact is he has never been selected as leader of his own party in either house of Congress.

Under a parliamentary system, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn would have been in line for the presidency. These men have been elected repeatedly to leadership.

The current period of transition should open the eyes of the country to the risks of our present system.

Time For Realignments

By Raymond Moley

Vice President Nixon emerges from an incredible ordeal of campaigning only to face, for a long time to come, criticism for what he should or should not have done to tip this election in his favor.

"Liberals" in his party will say he was too conservative and conservatives will say he failed to support their position with more vigor.

The host of amateur tacticians, who come out from their concern between elections with everything but politics, will say that this or that decided the result.

Much of this criticism is about as worthy of comment as the wild guesses of prophets before the election who went so wrong on what so many states would do in the final voting day.

While every American has a constitutional right to express his opinions on every subject, just as every cash customer at a ball game takes over the manager's job, it will be well to bear in mind some of the problems which faced the vice president in his campaign.

SOME COMPROMISE is essential in every campaign. To be in politics at all, especially to run for office, involves the art of compromise in ways and means to reach a common objective with principles untarnished.

Too often we are likely to confuse means and ends and thus reach conclusions inimical to a candidate.

Before we condemn Nixon and Nixon alone for the loss of this election, let us consider the problems he faced. His party was as widely divided in philosophy as New York is removed from Arizona. This has plagued the Republicans for a generation.

At the Chicago convention Nixon succeeded in creating the best show of party unity which they have had since 1928. But the infection was still there.

Only the fine common sense of Sen. Barry Goldwater held things together. Gov. Rockefeller made only a token campaign.

Nixon had the disadvantage of defending an administration in which the major decisions had not been his, although his part in them was made clear by the President.

IN MANY INSTANCES he was unable to answer the Kennedy charges against the Eisenhower policies because that would have offended the President.

In the Castro case, for instance, Nixon could not answer Kennedy's charge that the two ambassadors, Gardner and Smith, had warned the State Department about the danger of Castro because that would have revealed that the State Department has not been cleared of appeasers entrenched in the lower ranks.

Ambassador Gardner could not even get through the bureaucrats to see Secretary Dulles and the President with his warning.

Then here was the insatiable curiosity of the public to see and hear the candidates, thus making the geographical range of campaigning so broad that no real consideration of issues could be gotten over to the country.

It was a mistake, perhaps, to debate at all. But the wretched job of presentation destroyed any change of an adequate discussion or the issues.

Finally, the organization of the Republican party was so weak in many states that the Nixon - Lodge organization had to carry the whole load.

What good organization could have done in many of those states is shown by what happened in Ohio, where State Chairman Ray Bliss won despite an enormous labor-union organization in the industrial counties.

The immense popular vote for Nixon now gives him a position of leadership in which he can turn to the reorganization of his party for capturing Congress in 1962 and the presidency in 1964.

In 1799 John Thompson had a farm in New York. Now the land is covered by the tallest building in the world — the Empire State Building.

Progress is being made, but much hard work remains if the goal of more than $82,000 is to be reached.

While the public holds the final answer, the burden for seeing that every effort is made to have the people come through rests with the workers. Too early discouragement has no part in a fund campaign. The drive must be pushed relentlessly if a successful climax is to be reached.

To the people, again we urge: Give to the best of your ability. To the volunteer fund workers: Keep plugging away. You have something worthwhile to sell in the form of continued programs by six deserving agencies — the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, YMCA, Salvation Army, Recreation Council and the USO.

New Name For Something Old

Don't bet there won't be a United States Peace Corps—a voluntary organization of young U.S. collegians serving struggling new governments—within a year.

The idea was brushed over lightly during the presidential campaign when Sen. Kennedy said he favored draft exemption for young men volunteering to serve their country in this nonmilitary way. But if it comes up in Congress, it could become a major point of foreign policy.

Actually, it would amount to nothing more than giving a new name to something old that has taken varying forms. Young Britons already are performing this service under a program that has been in operation since 1958. Instead of being college graduates, they are mostly high school graduates waiting for a chance to get into college, a problem in Briton that seems certain to be bothersome here in the near future.

The young Britons, moreover, are volunteers, as were their fathers, grandfathers and great-grandfathers of yesterday who went forth from the homeland to bear the administrative burdens of the British empire.

In other times, thousands of young men and women missionaries have lent a hand to struggling people; they are still doing this. Young collegians have gone from campuses in the United States to their original homes in other parts of the world to help build better societies.

Many of the young Japanese who raised their country to first-class status were educated in the United States. Many of the young men helping to set up a government in the Congo were educated in Britain; a few generations ago all the young Asiatics who were making civil careers in India, Thailand, Indochina, Ceylon and China had gone to school either in Britain or the United States.

There would be nothing revolutionary about a peace corps of young people representing the United States. The only thing new would be the name—the name and the possibility that service in the corps would be allowable in lieu of military training for young men.

4-H Achievement

Adults and teenagers in the rural areas work around the clock day after day on the various enterprises that play such an important part in both their lives and the affairs of the communities in which they live.

When one reads of the achievements of such as Carolyn Sue Wilson of near Newell and Kenneth Markle of Weirton the value of such rural programs is brought into sharper focus.

Carolyn and Kenneth have just been honored as the outstanding 4-H Club girl and boy in Hancock County. With the awards, they join those who have gone before in 4-H work and at the same time set a goal for those who will follow.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Idaho is shipping 1950 crop of potatoes pre-skinned! Not a "spud" will go into the market that will wind up in a pan in a housewife's lap.

This will cheer the modern wife whose lot has been made softer by the small, easily swept home, the electric dishwasher and the all-done-by-push-button kitchen.

The pre-peeled spud or striptease potato will be welcomed, but its effect on the energy of the American woman can be bad. Life is being made so easy for her she may feel she is a victim of cruel and unusual punishment if she has to take eggs with the shells on or whip up an apple-strudel with apples that have skins on.

Husbands, we think, will be a little slow to cheer all this. The wife patiently peeling potatoes has constituted a traditional picture of home life.

Home and the potato knife seemed sentimentally linked. Potato peeling got the missus home early from the bridge party and movies. Whistler's Mother would have been an even more impressive painting if she had a pan in her lap and a few potato skins on the floor.

But the skinless spud will have wide popularity and we can't understand why neither Kennedy nor Nixon said a word about it in campaign pledges.

ELECTRONIC COMPUTERS made it possible to get election results as early as 7 p.m. Now for the electric brain which tells who won 48 hours before the polls open.

Police and firemen in many cities are taking on extra jobs because of difficulty making both ends meet. In New York it's a current issue, with police commissioner banning it, while fire commissioner okays it within limits.

A cop puts his life up for grabs every time he goes on duty in age of ruthless crime. He should get more money. Nobody can see a fireman up there on a slippery ladder in a blizzard and begrudge him a few extra dollars.

Nevertheless it is hard to cheer the idea of policemen and fire fighters answering calls when fagged out from overwork. A cop has to battle to the death with criminals who are never exhausted from double-duty.

A fireman is up against arsonists and careless folks who are no gluttons for extra work. In a fight it is the gangster who is refreshed and far from weary. Let's face it. . . .The pay is too low and the tired cop or fireman you get may be your own fault.

VOICE FROM THE PAST

My teacher was a kindly guide;
Her sufferings were somewhat wide
To school and back she used to hike—
She left no message "Out on strike."

II

She had it rough, I oft surmised,
But she was never unionized;
She never said, "Go home, my dears,

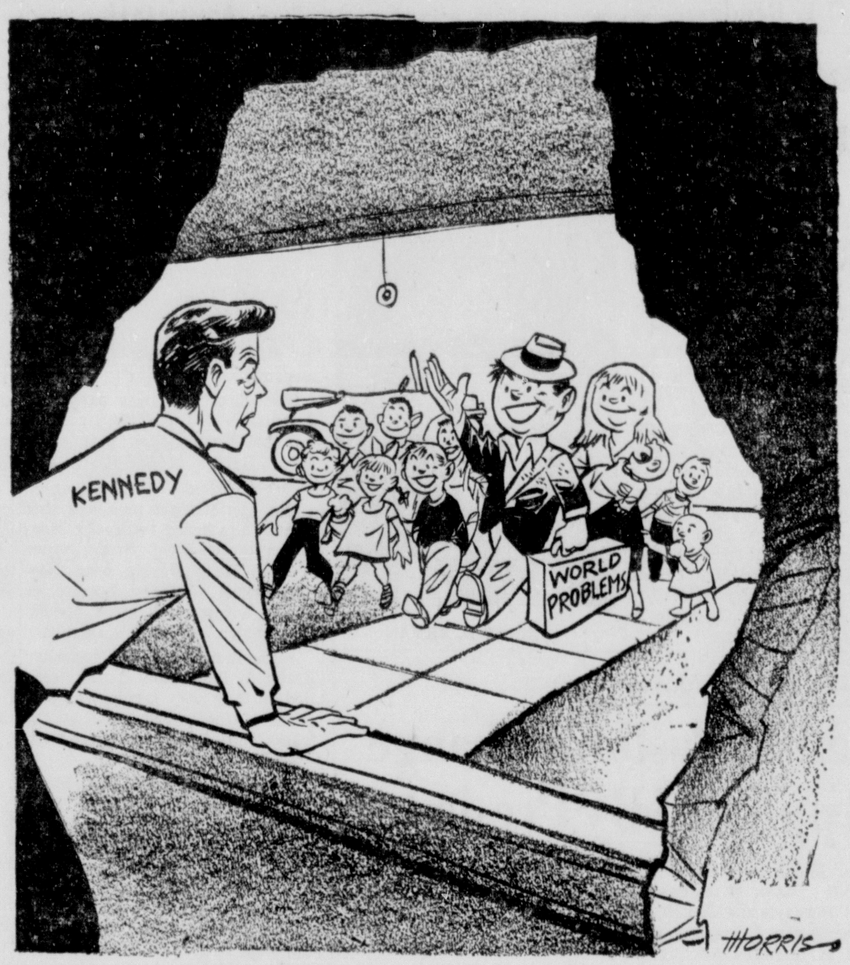
Not Even A Chance To Relax



A Story Behind The Negro Vote

By Victor Riesel

Long after the departure of you-know-who permitted Harlem's Hotel Theresa to slip back into the obscurity of uncelebrated hotel service, there was quiet drama there of far more importance to this nation and perhaps the world.

Victor Riesel

It could be said among sage observers, that what occurred on the hotel's top floor in the three weeks before Election Day really helped Jack Kennedy win.

This is especially true if what the national Republican leader, Thurston Morton, said is politically accurate.

The senator from Kentucky surmised that Dick Nixon was badly hurt by the defection of the multi-million Negro vote.

There is on the Hotel Theresa's top story radio station WLIB. Its appeal is beamed at the huge New York Negro community. There is a score of other such stations throughout the land in cities with heavy Negro populations.

ONE OF THE MEN guiding WLIB's programs is an imaginative fellow by the name of Morris Novik. His agility in these matters is matched only by his coolness in emergencies—as when he was the last man off the sinking Andrea Doria.

Because of his talents, Novik has long been labor's own "Mr. Radio," the adviser on broadcasting to the AFL-CIO itself and much of the labor movement. He was, therefore, with labor chief George Meany at the Los Angeles Democratic convention.

In the hours right after Lyndon Johnson's nomination, Novik had it figured swiftly that the Republicans naturally would hit the southern Democrats on the "civil rights issue."

The New Yorker outlined a plan to Meany for a hard-hitting radio offensive in Negro communities in the last three weeks of the campaign.

Novik, also broadcast adviser to labor's political machinery, COPE, then contacted Mrs. Roosevelt, ex-Sen. Herbert Lehman, Senators Wayne Morse, Paul Douglas and Hubert Humphrey, John Kennedy and, after some discussion, Adlai Stevenson.

They agreed to tape record special speeches of 6½-8 minutes each.

These were aimed at the Negroes who had been slipping away from the Democrats ever since Franklin Roosevelt.

THE SPEECHES were on the civil rights theme—arguing that the Republicans were at fault. The talks also appealed to the economic yearnings of the Negro community —on medical aid, housing, social security and minimum wage.

Then, at the cost of $750, these seven tapes were dispatched to 22 stations in such big Negro voting areas as Baltimore, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles and even Clayton, Mo., where the steel union sponsored them. The tapes were fit into 15 minute broadcasts.

In each community the broadcats were sponsored by a union or a citizens group for Kennedy or the local Democratic party.

In each area a leading Negro—such as a minister, a labor leader, a doctor, a city councilman or a judge—preceded the taped celebrity on the air.

Such a program was advertised locally as "Hear Judge So-and-So and Mrs. Roosevelt."

IN ADDITION to these 22 stations, Walter Reuther's auto union spotted the broadcasts on its own 18 station network.

Thus the publicity apparatus was saturating all big Negro areas when on Monday, Oct. 31, the Rev. Martin Luther King was interviewed on WLIB in the Hotel Theresa.

He spoke of his arrest in Georgia. He said as head of a clergyman group he had to be neutral. But he said of Jack Kennedy:

"I feel Sen. Kennedy took a very significant stand in this whole thing —(Rev. King's arrest). He took a courageous stand because Georgia happens to be one of the southern states he was sure to carry.

"His courage. . . .in my unjust arrest meant he was risking the possibility of losing a lot of support in the white community. . . .If a man would do this while the campaign was going on, it does demonstrate that, if elected, you can expect something forthright and positive. . . ."

In a few hours this was integrated in the radio network programs Novik had begun preparing three months earlier. It swung the undecided Negro vote. And that helped to swing the election, says Sen. Morton.

Top Reds At The Summit

By William L. Ryan

For a week world Communist leaders have been meeting at the summit. All the secrecy surrounding their sessions cannot hide a growing nervousness.

One basic point of cleavage worries them more than any other. It is not the question whether war is inevitable, nor the question of how Communist-ruled nations should develop internally. These are side issues.

The big quarrel concerns expansion of the Communist movement. This pits the leadership of Red China, Albania and possibly even the East Germans, backed by some chieftains from parties outside the Soviet orbit, against Nikita Khrushchev and most of the satellite leadership.

Black limousines have been scurrying back and forth through the Kremlin's turreted gates, bearing Communist chieftains to and from summit sessions. One gets the impression there is tough talk going on which will result in publication of a new manifesto.

The new pronouncement will be loaded with platitudes about the unbreakable solidarity of the Red camp under Moscow. But indications are that the leaders are making little progress toward patching up the main differences among them.

The big argument is this: Red China, backed by some dissidents from other Communist parties around the world, objects to Khrushchev's economic aid plans, especially with respect to underdeveloped countries. The Chinese resent any aid which tends to lend political stability to any government which is not Communist-oriented. Throwing Lenin's words at Khrushchev, the Chinese insist that only violent revolution can lead to dictatorships of the proletariat.

Khrushchev's men urge patience and caution. They promise to use Soviet economic policy as "a main influence for world revolution," but project their program over 20 years. They promise to unfold this program at the next—22nd—Soviet Communist party congress, probably early in 1961.

The quarrel has made an important figure of Wladyslaw Gomulka, chief of Poland's Communist party. He is considered the only pro-Khrushchev man who has the ear and the respect of the Chinese Communists. Khrushchev appears to have few other real friends to whom the Chinese will listen.

The Chinese Reds do not want to wait until 1980 for the real beginning of a world revolution. Neither do many of the Communist leaders outside the Soviet orbit, who smell the heady scent of power now and who in 1980 would be too old or too dead to enjoy the fruits of a long-range Soviet program. They complain that Khrushchev sacrifices their interests for the sake of purely Soviet aims and policies.

All this tends to put the Chinese Communists in the light of being the greatest danger to world peace today. The big peril could well be that the Red Chinese and their supporters might prevail.

That would mean pressures would be stepped up quickly in all the world's critical areas. The world Communist movement then would be relying principally upon piling chaos upon chaos in attempts to expand communism's rule and influence as swiftly as possible. There would be real danger then of global conflict.

Thus, while the Red quarrel eventually could lead to an explosion in the Kremlin, there would be little in this for the free world to cheer about.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Preparing for winter, employes of the maintenance department of the West Virginia state highway commission erected snow fences along the main highways in the northern part of the state.

Fifty applications for aid was made to the executive committee of the Midland Fellowship Club, organized to administer relief to the needy.

Okey Mitchell, Lee Babb Jr., James Harrison and Floyd Kell were added to the roster of the Newell Volunteer Fire Department.

Thirty candidates reported to coach Max Tuttle of Chester High School for the first workout of the 1940-41 basketball season.

TEN YEARS AGO — Clair M. Chambers, cashier at the Potters Bank and Trust Co., was appointed East Liverpool city and Liverpool Township chairman of the Christmas seal campaign.

Mrs. Eva Arpold was elected president of the Past Matrons Association of Crystal Chapter 19, Order of Eastern Star.

Outmoded System

By David Lawrence

Risks In Our Method Of Election

Do the American people have the faintest idea of what they have done to their government by their votes on election day? Do they know the dangers and even possible tragedy of transition in government as one administration takes over from another?

David Lawrence

Someday the American people ought to be told the whole truth so they will be persuaded to change the present system, which is antiquated and ill suited for a nuclear age.

What better time, for instance, for a foreign government to begin playing with fire and to precipitate a crisis than today?

Virtually all the administration's top policy makers and experienced officials must begin to pack their bags. Their interest now turns to their private affairs. The workload is going to be somebody else's responsibility in a few weeks anyway.

As for the knowledge and experience accumulated in nearly eight years of service, these are to be tossed away as a new personnel takes over and starts to learn what it is all about.

Sen. Kennedy is a conscientious individual, who will try to make a good president but he must learn first the intimate background of public affairs.

THIS TAKES not a few weeks but many months and perhaps years. It's a high price for the nation to pay.

Is there some other way? The British and many other English-speaking countries have a better system. It is called the "parliamentary" system.

It requires the electorate to pick in an election their representatives in the national legislature and these representatives select the leader who becomes responsible for the executive as well as the legislative branches of the government.

If the party in power makes mistakes and loses the confidence of the people, it can be ousted at any time, or a new legislature can be elected.

A permanent personnel, known as the "carrer service," functions continuously in high posts irrespective of the party in power. Thus is continuity assured and transition made smooth and effective in the shortest possible time.

It isn't a perfect system, and the American people could doubtless improve upon it with certain safeguards but it is a Democratic system and one that is immediately responsive to the will of the people.

Thus, when an American president is elected, he can make serious blunders but he cannot be ousted for four years except by the impeachment process. This is a long time in modern government. Back in 1913, just before his inauguration, President-elect Woodrow Wilson was asked his views on the then proposed constitutional amendment limiting a president to a single term of six years as recommended in the 1912 Democratic national platform.

MR. WILSON wrote a letter to Congress in which he said rightly that four years is often too long a time before the nation can get a new president and sometimes too short a time to give to a man who has initiated a reform program that the people might desire.

He hinted then that the United States might someday come to some form of responsible government by Cabinet, which, of course, describes the parliamentary system.

This writer has always opposed the two-term limitation for presidential tenure and has contended that no limit should be placed on the terms that a chief executive could serve but that he should be held accountable after two years to a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress.

Certainly there is need to study thoroughly the present system. Thus, out of the nearly 67 million votes cast this week, the narrowest of margins —less than a half of one per cent — separates the victor from the loser.

A few states are given large electoral votes because of their large population, but within those states the big cities have a power superior to those of the smaller communities. The system is obviously inequitable.

It has been suggested that the electoral vote be apportioned on the basis of congressional districts and that a majority within a state shall not be given the right to cast the entire electoral vote of a state, as happens today.

REFORMS are plainly needed, and it is interesting to note that Sen. Mike Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate—who is slated to succeed Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas in the leadership post — is in the forefront of those advocating a reform in the national election process.

Sen. Kennedy is an attractive personality and shows much promise but the fact is he has never been selected as leader of his own party in either house of Congress.

Under a parliamentary system, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn would have been in line for the presidency. These men have been elected repeatedly to leadership.

The current period of transition should open the eyes of the country to the risks of our present system.

Time For Realignments

By Raymond Moley

Vice President Nixon emerges from an incredible ordeal of campaigning only to face, for a long time to come, criticism for what he should or should not have done to tip this election in his favor.

"Liberals" in his party will say he was too conservative and conservatives will say he failed to support their position with more vigor.

The host of amateur tacticians, who come out from their concern between elections with everything but politics, will say that this or that decided the result.

Much of this criticism is about as worthy of comment as the wild guesses of prophets before the election who went so wrong on what so many states would do in the final voting day.

While every American has a constitutional right to express his opinions on every subject, just as every cash customer at a ball game takes over the manager's job, it will be well to bear in mind some of the problems which faced the vice president in his campaign.

SOME COMPROMISE is essential in every campaign. To be in politics at all, especially to run for office, involves the art of compromise in ways and means to reach a common objective with principles untarnished.

Too often we are likely to confuse means and ends and thus reach conclusions inimical to a candidate.

Before we condemn Nixon and Nixon alone for the loss of this election, let us consider the problems he faced. His party was as widely divided in philosophy as New York is removed from Arizona. This has plagued the Republicans for a generation.

At the Chicago convention Nixon succeeded in creating the best show of party unity which they have had since 1928. But the infection was still there.

Only the fine common sense of Sen. Barry Goldwater held things together. Gov. Rockefeller made only a token campaign.

Nixon had the disadvantage of defending an administration in which the major decisions had not been his, although his part in them was made clear by the President.

IN MANY INSTANCES he was unable to answer the Kennedy charges against the Eisenhower policies because that would have offended the President.

In the Castro case, for instance, Nixon could not answer Kennedy's charge that the two ambassadors, Gardner and Smith, had warned the State Department about the danger of Castro because that would have revealed that the State Department has not been cleared of appeasers entrenched in the lower ranks.

Ambassador Gardner could not even get through the bureaucrats to see Secretary Dulles and the President with his warning.

Then here was the insatiable curiosity of the public to see and hear the candidates, thus making the geographical range of campaigning so broad that no real consideration of issues could be gotten over to the country.

It was a mistake, perhaps, to debate at all. But the wretched job of presentation destroyed any change of an adequate discussion or the issues.

Finally, the organization of the Republican party was so weak in many states that the Nixon - Lodge organization had to carry the whole load.

What good organization could have done in many of those states is shown by what happened in Ohio, where State Chairman Ray Bliss won despite an enormous labor-union organization in the industrial counties.

The immense popular vote for Nixon now gives him a position of leadership in which he can turn to the reorganization of his party for capturing Congress in 1962 and the presidency in 1964.

In 1799 John Thompson had a farm in New York. Now the land is covered by the tallest building in the world — the Empire State Building.

Wellsville Board Meets

Teaching With TV Proposed By Daw

The possibility of establishing a new teaching technique for this area involving the use of television was outlined briefly by Supt. S. E. Daw to the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

Daw said the use of television in classroom instruction is being tried in other sections of the country. He said he has contacted station WSTV-TV at Steubenville on the possibility of starting such a program for Wellsville and other schools in the valley.

TELEVISION officials said the time needed would be donated free as a public service. The major problem is finding someone qualified to present programs on the medium.

He said he plans to discuss the proposal with other superintendents in the valley. The program could be presented once each week on numerous subjects. "As the program would be presented only once each week, it would be more stimulative rather than instructive," he said.

Russell Dysert, board member, said such a program also might stimulate interest in the homes.

In other business, the board gave formal approval to a resolution setting the tax millage for the coming year. The general fund tax will be 4.6 mills inside the 10 mill limitation and 14.4 outside the limitation. The bond retirement millage was increased from 4.3 to 4.5 mills, making the total 23.5 mills.

THE MILLAGE will raise $45,657 inside the 10-mill limitation and $187,590 outside, on full collection.

Daw reported he is planning a teachers' workshop either late this month or early in December. He also reported Dean Hummel of Columbus will visit the Wellsville system Dec. 13 to investigate the needs of a guidance program.

Daw discussed a survey being made of systems in Columbiana County by a team from Ohio State University.

Both Daw and Earl Bake, board president, reported on the Ohio School Boards Association convention Wednesday and Thursday at Columbus. Both outlined various recommendations that will be made by the association to the State Legislature. Daw reported on various forms he attended.

THE BOARD approved $234 more for the library to bring it up to state standards. Travel expense for Mrs. Ruth Cooper, attendance officer, was increased from $100 to $200 annually, retroactive to Sept. 6.

Mrs. Cooper, in a letter requesting the increase, said she drives her car about 125 miles a week in her work. The music and art instructors also received $200 a year car expense.

The Merchants Basketball team was given permission to use the Beacom Memorial gymnasium. They will pay expenses.

The board set a charge of $7.50 for janitor fee and lights for the use of the all-purpose room at MacDonald School by the Omni Athletic Boosters Club. The club holds teenage dances at the school on Saturday nights.

REPORTS WERE heard on the conditions of the McKinley, Garfield and McDonald buildings.

Daw invited the board members to a "stag party" to be held for teachers Thursday night at 8 at the band room.

Women's Civic Club Meets In Summitville

Mrs. William Boston of Wellsville, Miss Coletta Pelly and Mrs. Homer Rogers of Summitville were guests.

The next meeting will be Dec. 8 and the home of Mrs. Lewis McCullough.

Wellsville Board Meets

Teaching With TV Proposed By Daw

The possibility of establishing a new teaching technique for this area involving the use of television was outlined briefly by Supt. S. E. Daw to the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

Daw said the use of television in classroom instruction is being tried in other sections of the country. He said he has contacted station WSTV-TV at Steubenville on the possibility of starting such a program for Wellsville and other schools in the valley.

TELEVISION officials said the time needed would be donated free as a public service. The major problem is finding someone qualified to present programs on the medium.

He said he plans to discuss the proposal with other superintendents in the valley. The program could be presented once each week on numerous subjects. "As the program would be presented only once each week, it would be more stimulative rather than instructive," he said.

Russell Dysert, board member, said such a program also might stimulate interest in the homes.

In other business, the board gave formal approval to a resolution setting the tax millage for the coming year. The general fund tax will be 4.6 mills inside the 10 mill limitation and 14.4 outside the limitation. The bond retirement millage was increased from 4.3 to 4.5 mills, making the total 23.5 mills.

THE MILLAGE will raise $45,657 inside the 10-mill limitation and $187,590 outside, on full collection.

Daw reported he is planning a teachers' workshop either late this month or early in December. He also reported Dean Hummel of Columbus will visit the Wellsville system Dec. 13 to investigate the needs of a guidance program.

Daw discussed a survey being made of systems in Columbiana County by a team from Ohio State University.

Both Daw and Earl Bake, board president, reported on the Ohio School Boards Association convention Wednesday and Thursday at Columbus. Both outlined various recommendations that will be made by the association to the State Legislature. Daw reported on various forms he attended.

THE BOARD approved $234 more for the library to bring it up to state standards. Travel expense for Mrs. Ruth Cooper, attendance officer, was increased from $100 to $200 annually, retroactive to Sept. 6.

Mrs. Cooper, in a letter requesting the increase, said she drives her car about 125 miles a week in her work. The music and art instructors also received $200 a year car expense.

The Merchants Basketball team was given permission to use the Beacom Memorial gymnasium. They will pay expenses.

The board set a charge of $7.50 for janitor fee and lights for the use of the all-purpose room at MacDonald School by the Omni Athletic Boosters Club. The club holds teenage dances at the school on Saturday nights.

REPORTS WERE heard on the conditions of the McKinley, Garfield and McDonald buildings.

Women's Civic Club Meets In Summitville

Mrs. William Boston of Wellsville, Miss Coletta Pelly and Mrs. Homer Rogers of Summitville were guests.

The next meeting will be Dec. 8 and the home of Mrs. Lewis McCullough.

It Was Meteor Monday Night, Air Base Personnel Reports

CINCINNATI (AP) — Apparently it was a meteor that was seen shortly after 6 o'clock Monday evening over a wide area of Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

At least personnel at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton said a meteor passed over at about that time.

But for almost four hours it had press association and newspaper offices, Air Force bases and police in a dither trying to run down reports than an airplane had been seen to explode in the sky.

The reports came from areas extending all the way from Fleming County, Ky., south of Maysville, to central Illinois. In Indiana there even were the old flying saucer reports.

Manchester, Ohio, apparently the first to report, thought it was an Air Force jet plane. In Indiana some early reports were that it was an airliner that had exploded.

Indiana state police were rushed into Switzerland County on a report a plane had exploded and crashed there. Kentucky state police supported by Army helicopters hurried to near Hardinsburg to investigate a similar report.

No one ever found an airplane and checks at Lockbourne Air Force Base in Columbus, Wright-Patterson Field, Clinton County AFB at Wilmington and Ft. Knox produced no reports of missing aircraft.

The Clinton County base said it had no planes up at all when one report came that two planes had crashed—both from that base.

One report from Manchester, Ohio, was that someone said he still could see the vapor trail from the plane that had "exploded." A Ladoga, Ind., farmer and his three sons said they saw "a bright fire ball in the sky heading west" and that it seemed to fall near the Crawfordsville, Ind., airport.

Then came the word from Wright-Patterson that the meteor had been sighted.

FAA Claims Ill-Fated Plane 2,000 Lbs. Over Legal Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency says a chartered airliner that crashed at Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 29 was 2,000 pounds over the legal load limit. The airline denies it.

Sixteen members of the California Polytechnic College football team and six other persons were killed in the crash. The twin-engine plane had been chartered from Arctic-Pacific Airlines, Inc., of Oakland, Calif.

The overweight charge was contained in a complaint filed against Arctic - Pacific Monday by the FAA. In Oakland, company manager James Springer said the plane was well within its legal takeoff weight.

Springer also disputed an FAA charge that the plane's engines had not been properly inspected or maintained. He said company records showed they had.

The FAA said the pilots, Capt. Donald L. J. Chesher and First Officer Harold Perovich, had been on duty in excess of maximum hours permitted on the two previous days, Oct. 27 and 28. Both were killed.

Springer said "we had a double crew and nobody worked longer than was permissible. This charge is just shooting wildly in the dark."

The FAA complaint also said:

1. The C46 plane's military surplus engines had not been modified for commercial use as required.

2. The plane took off in weather conditions far below the minimum standards permitted for instrument flight rules for C46 planes.

3. The airline had notified the FAA on Oct. 27 that it had fired Chesher. Chesher's pilot license was revoked by the FAA last July for violating regulations, and the revocation was under appeal. The FAA received the notice that Cheser had been fired by the airline on Oct. 31, two days after his death.

U.N. Congo Unit Remains Split On Conciliation Move

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Congo advisory committee remained split today on what to do about dispatching a conciliation commission to the chaotic African state.

Informed sources said Secretar-General Dag Hammarskjold's 18-member committee failed after haggling for four hours Monday night to decide when to send its mission to the new African republic to try to bring warring factions together. It will meet again Wednesday.

One element in the committee it is reported, contends there is no sense in sending a 15-member mission all the way to Africa to try to bring President Joseph Kasavubu and his arch rival, deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba, together since Kasavubu is in New York.

The Congolese president came here last week to claim the Congo's empty seat in the General Assembly. The United States put a resolution through the credentials committee naming Kasavubu as head of the Congo delegation, but the recommendation is expected to run into bitter opposition in the assembly where the Soviet bloc and many Asian-African states favor Lumumba.

A-Sub, With 16 Polaris Missiles, To Roam Atlantic

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—The nuclear powered submarine George Washington, armed with 16 Polaris missiles, was ready today to begin roaming the Atlantic.

The sleek sub, its missiles armed with hydrogen bomb warheads, was scheduled to depart from placid Charleston harbor at about noon.

In the words of Rear Adm. K. M. McManes, 6th District commander, the killer-sub will be on "a mission of good will for all who want good will and mission of absolute destruction for all those who want that."

He said the 380-foot sub carries a destructive capacity "equal to all the bombs dropped during World War II."

The vessel is expected to stay at sea for about two years, returning then for a new nuclear reactor. In the meantime, it will prowl undisclosed areas with alternating crews.

Crushed To Death

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Clifford Benton, 59, of near Russellville was crushed to death beneath his automobile near here Monday as it left the road on a curve and overturned. Benton was thrown out of the car but it rolled on him.

Youth, 17, Claimed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James A. Lynch, 17, who hit his head on a curb Nov. 7 while experimenting on how to induce unconsciousness, died Monday at a hospital. Police said the Columbus boy inhaled quickly a number of times, then tried to exhale with his mouth clamped around his thumb.

STOPS FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP BEFORE IT STOPS YOU

Now's the time to start getting protection against fuel line freeze-up! Now's the time to start using Sohio's famous Boron with Ice-gard! If your fuel line freezes up, you're stopped cold! That usually means your car won't move until a tow truck moves it for you!

SAVES MONEY AND SOLVES A DRIVING PROBLEM!

Boron with Ice-gard stops fuel line freeze-up before it stops you! With the first full tank of Boron with Ice-gard, you get protection against a frozen fuel line. Each additional tankful of Boron with Ice-gard keeps the protection going strong. To be completely protected all winter long, use Boron with Ice-gard continuously. Because protection is already "built in," there's no need for canned anti-icers. And, best of all, there's no extra cost!

HERE'S THE IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE!

Don't be confused! Fuel line freeze-up is one thing. Carburetor icing is another. Carburetor icing occurs in the carburetor and only when the temperature is above 32°. It causes stalling at stop signs and lights. But fuel line freeze-up occurs at sub-freezing temperatures, and it stops you cold! Boron with Ice-gard offers protection against both driving problems in any Ohio weather!

42 Attend Meeting

Buzz Sessions Conducted At PTA Federation Event

Four buzz sessions on phases of the topic, "What You Would Like To See Accomplished in Your PTA?", highlighted the meeting of the City Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Monday in the library of Westgate School. Some 42 attended.

Moderators and the subjects covered were Mrs. G. Richard Jones, ways and means; Mrs. Dale Franklin, program; Mrs. Donald Baxter, membership and hospitality, and Tom Dixon, new projects.

Following the sessions, summaries were given by the recorders. Atty. Don Smith, speaking on ways and means, said several groups plan to increase membership dues. Most schools have had the policy of one big fund-raising event, such as a carnival, but now are turning to several small projects. The group decided money should be budgeted, allotting so much for necessary expenditure and restricting donations to community activities.

A summary of the program area was given by Mrs. Lester Hall. She said children's participation in PTA programs defeats the purpose and parents must be educated to appreciate instructive and informative programs. The group named panels and round-table discussions as favorite type programs, along with speakers on community activities. They also commented that the meetings should be limited in regards to time as lengthy programs are undesirable.

William Gaston reported on the findings of the membership session. He said groups must follow the "3 R's" of membership—remember, recruit and retain. Questionnaires for parents should be distributed at the first of the term so that school officers may know the needs of assistance. Good programs, mainly, induce membership, he said.

In speaking of new projects, Carl Pelini said there are hopes of establishing a reading clinic to work in conjunction with the Hearing and Speech Clinic now operated at Westgate by the Quota Club. He said the public doesn't realize how many reading difficulties there are and all the school would participate and benefit from such a program.

In conclusion, Mrs. Alberta Massey read the true purpose of PTA as set up by the National Congress of PTA.

Mrs. Jones, president, conducted business. Reports were heard from Mrs. James Johnston, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Diddle, treasurer.

Mrs. Baxter spoke on the Ohio Parent Teacher Magazine and the one printed by the National Congress and took subscriptions.

Supt. Ralph Betts reported on American Education Week observed last week, announcing that approximately 500 visited the elementary and junior high sections at Westgate, along with some 175 each for the high school and East Junior High. No record was turned in for the individual schools as programs were varied. He invited the group to the second White House conference on education scheduled for 7:30 tonight at the library. He outlined the accomplishments of the first conference.

Lincoln and LaCroft schools tied for the largest representation. Plans were made to again mail mimeographed reports of the meetings to each school.

Mrs. Hall conducted devotions and Mrs. Franklin was program chairman.

To 'Intermediate Districts'

Proposal To Study Change In School System Shelved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Education has shelved for the time being a committee report recommending a study to consider reorganizing Ohio's school system into "intermediate districts."

Such districts would, in some cases, cross county lines and would replace the present county school districts, according to one recommendation in the report.

Other recommendations were that:

The intermediate units would comprise areas containing not less than 10,000 pupils in average daily attendance.

Local, exempted village and city school districts would be redesignated "school districts."

A school district with less than 10,000 pupils would secure from the intermediate unit of which it is a part the minimum required special services, such as instructional and supervisory services.

But those school districts would remain independent and provide for their own special services, unless they desired to contract for them with an intermediate unit.

Neither the intermediate unit nor the independent school district would be reduced to below 10,000 pupils as a result of territorial changes.

The minimum enrollment of a school district would be large enough to provide a comprehensive high school course of study, with at least 100 pupils in the graduating class.

Financing of the new system would provide, according to the report, equal services for every pupil in the state.

The board shelved the report for further consideration and discussion.

Another report to the board favored the establishment of two-year junior colleges in Ohio, to be run by individual communities and be financed by the state. The board agreed to turn this report over to the Governor's Interim Commission to Study Education Beyond the High School for further study.

The board added to its recommendations to the 1961 legislature a request for special state aid for classes composed of emotionally disturbed children.

Monday's monthly board meeting did not consider a statement of philosophy on education as had been planned.

But among other actions, the board:

Authorized Walsh College, Canton, to offer instruction in freshman courses leading to the bachelor of arts degree during the academic year 1960-1961; but said continuance of the authorization beyond the current academic year would be contingent upon a number of factors.

Granted 16 high school charters.

Approved state funds for 1,625 teacher units to conduct special classes for physically handicapped and slow learning pupils. The number of units is an increase of 175 over the number approved for state aid last year.

Approved state funds for 999 teacher units for special vocational classes. The number of units is an increase of 30 over the number approved for state aid last year.

Rescinded state funds for a building project for Allensville Consolidated Local School District (Vinton County) $30,367.

Adopted a resolution extending the time limit from 240 days to 365 days in which a school district must award a contract after funds have been obtained from a bond issue.

Granted exemption from minimum state standards and granted state aid for 1961 to 12 one-teacher schools and 33 two-teacher schools.

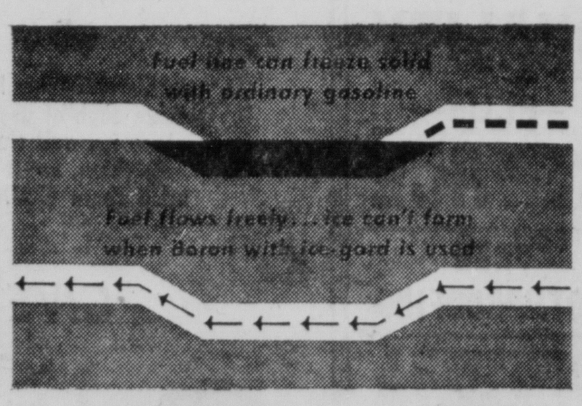
Toledo Widow Killed In Car-Truck Crash

GREENVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ann Brand, 67, of Toledo, Ohio, was killed Monday when the auto she was driving and a truck collided on U.S. 40 west of here. The truck driver and a Pennsylvania couple in another auto that hit the rear of the truck were hurt.

State police said Mrs. Brand, a widow, was en route to California.

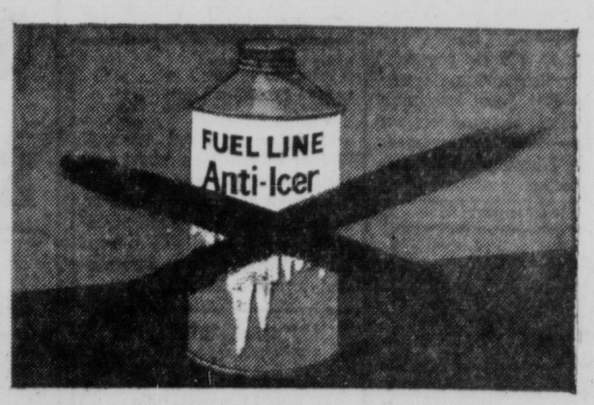
FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP CAN STOP YOU COLD!

If fuel line freeze-up should stop you, your car will not run until your fuel line thaws. And that usually means your car has to be towed or pushed to a garage. Continuous use of Boron with Ice-gard gives you winter-long protection against this major driving problem.



HOW BORON WITH ICE-GARD STOPS FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP!

In winter, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in the low points in your fuel line and freeze solid. Fuel can't flow through. But Boron with Ice-gard lowers the freezing point of water. Ice can't form so fuel flows freely.



ICE-GARD'S IN, CANNED ANTI-ICERS ARE OUT!

You don't have to buy canned anti-icers when you use Boron with Ice-gard continuously. Boron with Ice-gard ice-proofs your fuel line automatically with every tankful. Protection is "built-in," so you always have it when you need it. And you get it at no extra cost!

42 Attend Meeting

Buzz Sessions Conducted At PTA Federation Event

Four buzz sessions on phases of the topic, "What You Would Like To See Accomplished in Your PTA?", highlighted the meeting of the City Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Monday in the library of Westgate School. Some 42 attended.

Moderators and the subjects covered were Mrs. G. Richard Jones, ways and means; Mrs. Dale Franklin, program; Mrs. Donald Baxter, membership and hospitality, and Tom Dixon, new projects.

Following the sessions, summaries were given by the recorders. Atty. Don Smith, speaking on ways and means, said several groups plan to increase membership dues. Most schools have had the policy of one big fund-raising event, such as a carnival, but now are turning to several small projects. The group decided money should be budgeted, allotting so much for necessary expenditure and restricting donations to community activities.

A summary of the program area was given by Mrs. Lester Hall. She said children's participation in PTA programs defeats the purpose and parents must be educated to appreciate instructive and informative programs. The group named panels and round-table discussions as favorite type programs, along with speakers on community activities. They also commented that the meetings should be limited in regards to time as lengthy programs are undesirable.

William Gaston reported on the findings of the membership session. He said groups must follow the "3 R's" of membership—remember, recruit and retain. Questionnaires for parents should be distributed at the first of the term so that school officers may know the needs of assistance. Good programs, mainly, induce membership, he said.

In speaking of new projects, Carl Pelini said there are hopes of establishing a reading clinic to work in conjunction with the Hearing and Speech Clinic now operated at Westgate by the Quota Club. He said the public doesn't realize how many reading difficulties there are and all the school would participate and benefit from such a program.

In conclusion, Mrs. Alberta Massey read the true purpose of PTA as set up by the National Congress of PTA.

Mrs. Jones, president, conducted business. Reports were heard from Mrs. James Johnston, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Diddle, treasurer.

Mrs. Baxter spoke on the Ohio Parent Teacher Magazine and the one printed by the National Congress and took subscriptions.

Supt. Ralph Betts reported on American Education Week observed last week, announcing that approximately 500 visited the elementary and junior high sections at Westgate, along with some 175 each for the high school and East Junior High. No record was turned in for the individual schools as programs were varied. He invited the group to the second White House conference on education scheduled for 7:30 tonight at the library. He outlined the accomplishments of the first conference.

Lincoln and LaCroft schools tied for the largest representation. Plans were made to again mail mimeographed reports of the meetings to each school.

Mrs. Hall conducted devotions and Mrs. Franklin was program chairman.

To 'Intermediate Districts'

Proposal To Study Change In School System Shelved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Education has shelved for the time being a committee report recommending a study to consider reorganizing Ohio's school system into "intermediate districts."

Such districts would, in some cases, cross county lines and would replace the present county school districts, according to one recommendation in the report.

Other recommendations were that:

The intermediate units would comprise areas containing not less than 10,000 pupils in average daily attendance.

Local, exempted village and city school districts would be redesignated "school districts."

A school district with less than 10,000 pupils would secure from the intermediate unit of which it is a part the minimum required special services, such as instructional and supervisory services.

But those school districts would remain independent and provide for their own special services, unless they desired to contract for them with an intermediate unit.

Neither the intermediate unit nor the independent school district would be reduced to below 10,000 pupils as a result of territorial changes.

The minimum enrollment of a school district would be large enough to provide a comprehensive high school course of study, with at least 100 pupils in the graduating class.

Financing of the new system would provide, according to the report, equal services for every pupil in the state.

The board shelved the report for further consideration and discussion.

Another report to the board favored the establishment of two-year junior colleges in Ohio, to be run by individual communities and be financed by the state. The board agreed to turn this report over to the Governor's Interim Commission to Study Education Beyond the High School for further study.

The board added to its recommendations to the 1961 legislature a request for special state aid for classes composed of emotionally disturbed children.

Monday's monthly board meeting did not consider a statement of philosophy on education as had been planned.

But among other actions, the board:

Authorized Walsh College, Canton, to offer instruction in freshman courses leading to the bachelor of arts degree during the academic year 1960-1961; but said continuance of the authorization beyond the current academic year would be contingent upon a number of factors.

Granted 16 high school charters.

Approved state funds for 1,625 teacher units to conduct special classes for physically handicapped and slow learning pupils. The number of units is an increase of 175 over the number approved for state aid last year.

Approved state funds for 999 teacher units for special vocational classes. The number of units is an increase of 30 over the number approved for state aid last year.

Rescinded state funds for a building project for Allensville Consolidated Local School District (Vinton County) $30,367.

Adopted a resolution extending the time limit from 240 days to 365 days in which a school district must award a contract after funds have been obtained from a bond issue.

Granted exemption from minimum state standards and granted state aid for 1961 to 12 one-teacher schools and 33 two-teacher schools.

Toledo Widow Killed In Car-Truck Crash

GREENVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ann Brand, 67, of Toledo, Ohio, was killed Monday when the auto she was driving and a truck collided on U.S. 40 west of here. The truck driver and a Pennsylvania couple in another auto that hit the rear of the truck were hurt.

State police said Mrs. Brand, a widow, was en route to California.

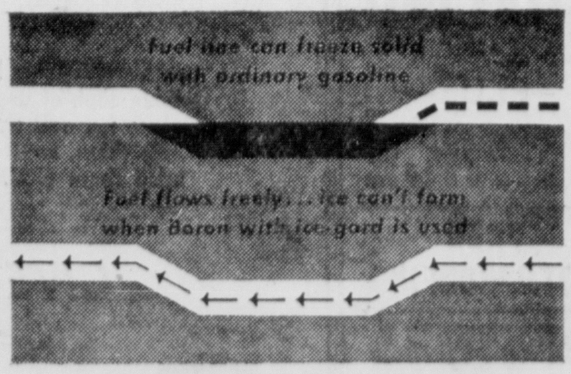
THE REVIEW

Fuel line freeze-up can really leave you out in the cold. When it happens, chances are you're stuck until the tow truck comes!

To demonstrate that Boron with Ice-gard stops fuel line freeze-up, Sohio engineers developed the famous "ice cube car" test.

FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP CAN STOP YOU COLD!

If fuel line freeze-up should stop you, your car will not run until your fuel line thaws. And that usually means your car has to be towed or pushed to a garage. Continuous use of Boron with Ice-gard gives you winter-long protection against this major driving problem.



HOW BORON WITH ICE-GARD STOPS FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP!

In winter, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in the low points in your fuel line and freeze solid. Fuel can't flow through. But Boron with Ice-gard lowers the freezing point of water. Ice can't form so fuel flows freely.

ICE-GARD'S IN, CANNED ANTI-ICERS ARE OUT!

You don't have to buy canned anti-icers when you use Boron with Ice-gard continuously. Boron with Ice-gard ice-proofs your fuel line automatically with every tankful. Protection is "built-in," so you always have it when you need it. And you get it at no extra cost!

Mr. And Mrs. Glenn Smith At Home After Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Smith have returned from a honeymoon in Virginia and are residing in a newly-furnished apartment at 305 W. 4th St. following their marriage Oct. 30 at 2:30 o'clock in the First Church of Christ.

The bride was Miss Joyce Downard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Downard of Dewey Ave., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Hillcrest.

Mrs. Evelyn Talbott, church organist, played a quarter hour of wedding music. Mrs. Betty Armitage, cousin of the bridegroom, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, embellished with sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt, formed of tiers, was accented in the back with roses.

Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls and sequins. She wore a drop pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white carnations and satin streamers, centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Lynn Downard was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Margaret Beebout and Miss Carol Sowards were bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical gowns of velvet and chiffon with matching headpieces holding theater veils. The maid of honor wore a shrimp colored gown and the bridesmaids were in royal blue. They carried Colonial bouquets of carnations tied with matching streamers.

MRS. GLENN D. SMITH
She's Former Joyce Downard.

The mother of the bride chose a red wool sheath with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a royal blue suit with white accessories. Rose corsages complemented their costumes.

A reception for 75 was held in the social rooms under the supervision of the Sigma Alpha Class. A three-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the buffet table, which was decorated with maline, flowers and lighted tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Charles Sayre, Mrs. John Mostoller, Mrs. Glenn Hall, Mrs. Edward Daily, Miss Mildred Rose and Mrs. Alton Weber.

The bride was graduated from East Liverpool High School and is employed as cashier at the A. & P. Supermarket.

Her husband, a graduate of Wellsville High School, has completed 3 years service with the Army. He is an employe of the Milliron Co.

Wellsville DAR Hears Guest Discuss Her European Trip

Mrs. Dwight Allison of New Philadelphia told of her summer tour of Europe when the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution met Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. C. Moore, 400 Aten Ave., Wellsville.

The former district director of Ohio DAR also screened slides of her trip.

Mrs. Alva Dickey, national defense chairman, reviewed articles from the DAR magazine, "National Defender," of October issue. They included a U.S. history published by the University of Michigan Press which omits national heroes, and Global Fifth Column—student and youth group problems and the danger of the peace program supervised by Communist front organizations. She also touched on the eighth annual council of the World Assembly of Youth and problems in Acar, Ghana, Viet Nam and Algeria.

The opening ritual was conducted by Mrs. Ford S. Ball, regent, and for devotions a portion of Ps. 107 and Litany for Thanksgiving were used by Mrs. Gerge B. Fraser, chaplain.

Mrs. Bruce Curby, flag chairman, led the pledge of allegiance and reported on the flag count taken by William Spires in Wellsville for 1959 and 1960, showing an increase in the number of flags displayed.

Mrs. Robert Faulk presented Roster 3 of Revolutionary soldiers buried in Ohio, compiled by the Ohio DAR for the local group and which will be given later to the Carnegie Library. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. D. T. O'Hara and Mrs. Delmar T. O'Hara Jr. A fall arrangement of fruits and flowers assembled by Mrs. Clarence G. Green was used in the table decorations. Mrs. Earl Stewart of New Philadelphia was a guest.

The next meeting will be a dinner Dec. 9 at Piatt's Tea Room. Mrs. Marshall H. Francis of Steubenville, state registrar of the Ohio Society and member of the national American music committee, will be guest speaker.

Mr. And Mrs. Glenn Smith At Home After Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Smith have returned from a honeymoon in Virginia and are residing in a newly-furnished apartment at 305 W. 4th St, following their marriage Oct. 30 at 2:30 o'clock in the First Church of Christ.

The bride was Miss Joyce Downard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Downard of Dewey Ave., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Hillcrest.

Mrs. Evelyn Talbott, church organist, played a quarter hour of wedding music. Mrs. Betty Armitage, cousin of the bridegroom, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, embellished with sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt, formed of tiers, was accented in the back with roses.

Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls and sequins. She wore a drop pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white carnations and satin streamers, centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Lynn Downard was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Margaret Beebout and Miss Carol Sowards were bridesmaids.

They were dressed in identical gowns of velvet and chiffon with matching headpieces holding theater veils. The maid of honor wore a shrimp colored gown and the bridesmaids were in royal blue. They carried Colonial bouquets of carnations tied with matching streamers.

MRS. GLENN D. SMITH
She's Former Joyce Downard.

The mother of the bride chose a red wool sheath with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a royal blue suit with white accessories. Rose corsages complemented their costumes.

A reception for 75 was held in the social rooms under the supervision of the Sigma Alpha Class. A three-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the buffet table, which was decorated with maline, flowers and lighted tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Charles Sayre, Mrs. John Mostoller, Mrs. Glenn Hall, Mrs. Edward Daily, Miss Mildred Rose and Mrs. Alton Weber.

The bride was graduated from East Liverpool High School and is employed as cashier at the A. & P. Supermarket.

Her husband, a graduate of Wellsville High School, has completed 3 years service with the Army. He is an employe of the Milliron Co.

Wellsville DAR Hears Guest Discuss Her European Trip

Mrs. Dwight Allison of New Philadelphia told of her summer tour of Europe when the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution met Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. C. Moore, 400 Aten Ave., Wellsville.

The former district director of Ohio DAR also screened slides of her trip.

Mrs. Alva Dickey, national defense chairman, reviewed articles from the DAR magazine, "National Defender," of October issue. They included a U.S. history published by the University of Michigan Press which omits national heroes, and Global Fifth Column—student and youth group problems and the danger of the peace program supervised by Communist front organizations. She also touched on the eighth annual council of the World Assembly of Youth and problems in Acar, Ghana, Viet Nam and Algeria.

The opening ritual was conducted by Mrs. Ford S. Ball, regent, and for devotions a portion of Ps. 107 and Litany for Thanksgiving were used by Mrs. Gerge B. Fraser, chaplain.

Mrs. Bruce Curby, flag chairman, led the pledge of allegiance and reported on the flag count taken by William Spires in Wellsville for 1959 and 1960, showing an increase in the number of flags displayed.

Mrs. Robert Faulk presented Roster 3 of Revolutionary soldiers buried in Ohio, compiled by the Ohio DAR for the local group and which will be given later to the Carnegie Library. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. D. T. O'Hara and Mrs. Delmar T. O'Hara Jr. A fall arrangement of fruits and flowers assembled by Mrs. Clarence G. Green was used in the table decorations. Mrs. Earl Stewart of New Philadelphia was a guest.

The next meeting will be a dinner Dec. 9 at Piatt's Tea Room. Mrs. Marshall H. Francis of Steubenville, state registrar of the Ohio Society and member of the national American music committee, will be guest speaker.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please answer a simple question for me? Why is it when a man looks at a gas gauge that says empty he doesn't believe it? He always thinks there's enough gas left in the tank for one more trip.

I've been stranded twice this month because my husband simply will not believe his eyes. The last time I got stuck with an empty tank was on the bridge. As if this wasn't enough aggravation for one day, a policeman gave me a ticket for obstructing traffic.

I talked this over with a few of my friends and was shocked to learn that many of them have the same problem with their husbands. Can you explain this? — FUMING.

Dear Fuming: Some men have such king-size egos they think they can outsmart anything — including the gas gauge. And then there are men who are so sick and tired of taking orders and following directions they ignore this nagging little monster because it reminds them of their wives.

Tied To Apron Strings

Dear Ann: I'm 24, male, have a good job and I live at home. My folks are wonderful but they won't let me live my own life.

Mom has actually kept me home from work because she thinks rest is more important. On nights when I'm out past midnight she sneaks into my bedroom and turns off the alarm clock so I'll oversleep.

A fellow I work with found a dandy apartment and wanted me to share it with him. Mom said she'd die if I moved out and left her alone. (Please remember, she HAS Pop.) She cried and said her greatest joy in life is cooking for me and taking care of my clothes.

I've gone with several nice girls but Mom always finds something wrong with them and eventually I give up.

I know I should get out but I hate to break my mother's heart. How much does a man owe his mother? — KURT

Dear Kurt: Not that much. Move out of the house before you die of suffocation. She'll live.

Dog Days Ahead

Dear Ann: I'm a middle-aged woman with an unheard-of problem. I'll probably ruffle a lot of feathers with this statement but I must be honest. I don't like dogs.

I'm not allergic to them, nor am I afraid of them. I just don't want to be bothered.

I know this is like being against motherhood and the United States Marines, but I just can't help it, nor do I wish to.

The problem is a man with whom I've been going for almost a year has ordered a very special Scotch Terrier as a birthday surprise. (His sister let the secret slip.) The dog should be here in about two weeks.

I hate to hurt his feelings but I don't want the dog. Please tell me what to do. — MISS MEANIE.

Dear Meanie: Your friend should have checked with you before going ahead with his plans.

Even dog lovers must admit that a dog means work, care, expense and responsibility. Not everyone wants them.

When the gift arrives, tell your fiance as gently as possible that you are unable to give the animal the care he deserves, and it would be unfair to accept it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Bouncing' Pilot Forced Down In Wooster District

A Minnesota pilot who made a forced landing Oct. 29 on a farm near Hammondsville is being plagued with bad luck. He was forced down again over the weekend on a farm south of Wooster.

Verne Goudy, who was en route to Delaware, was first forced down in a field on the farm of Clyde Workman of the Hammondsville-Bergholz Rd.

The propellor of his PT-23 World War II trainer was shattered in the landing and the right wing was punctured.

Goudy then returned home. Over the weekend he returned, made repairs to the plane and took off early Saturday morning, heading for the Toronto airport.

Goudy became lost and landed instead at Amsterdam at 9 a. m. He was given proper directions but ended up at the Wintersville airport at 2 p. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said he remained overnight at a motel and then took off, heading toward Minnesota, Sunday morning about 9.

He apparently became lost again and was forced down south of Wooster. He again abandoned the plane and took a bus home, officers learned.

The patrol said the reason he is having so much trouble is because he doesn't have a compass and flies by sight alone.

Probation Granted 3 Boys In Cigarette Theft

LISBON — Three Lisbon area youths, 12, 16 and 17, were placed on probation to the Welfare Department for breaking into a cigarette machine at a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The youths admitted breaking into the machine at a local laundromat Nov. 4 but told the judge they stole only 20 packs of cigarettes, of which 16 were recovered.

The owner told police 30 packs were taken so the youths will pay for those not recovered. There was no damage to the machine, police said.

Herman D. Devor of Greenville, past state commander, was guest speaker. He was introduced by Robert Poynter, past post and county commander, who served as master of ceremonies.

He spoke on "Veterans Day" and pointed out that "if it serves no other purpose, Veterans Day should demonstrate to the world the national unity which is the strength of this country."

"It should be a constant reminder to all of us that this country has an obligation to maintain constant vigilance and intensified military preparedness, if we are to continue to meet the challenges of both today and tomorrow, Devor said.

Guests included Mayor and Mrs. Bert Goodballet, Cliff Cooper, past deputy commander, and his wife, and Robert Knoble of Apple Creek 10th District second vice commander, and his wife. James Cregar, commander, gave the address of welcome.

The invocation and benediction were by the Rev. James Gardner, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please answer a simple question for me? Why is it when a man looks at a gas gauge that says empty he doesn't believe it? He always thinks there's enough gas left in the tank for one more trip.

I've been stranded twice this month because my husband simply will not believe his eyes. The last time I got stuck with an empty tank was on the bridge. As if this wasn't enough aggravation for one day, a policeman gave me a ticket for obstructing traffic.

I talked this over with a few of my friends and was shocked to learn that many of them have the same problem with their husbands. Can you explain this? — FUMING.

Dear Fuming: Some men have such king-size egos they think they can outsmart anything — including the gas gauge. And then there are men who are so sick and tired of taking orders and following directions they ignore this nagging little monster because it reminds them of their wives.

Tied To Apron Strings

Dear Ann: I'm 24, male, have a good job and I live at home. My folks are wonderful but they won't let me live my own life.

Mom has actually kept me home from work because she thinks rest is more important. On nights when I'm out past midnight she sneaks into my bedroom and turns off the alarm clock so I'll oversleep.

A fellow I work with found a dandy apartment and wanted me to share it with him. Mom said she'd die if I moved out and left her alone. (Please remember, she HAS Pop.) She cried and said her greatest joy in life is cooking for me and taking care of my clothes.

I've gone with several nice girls but Mom always finds something wrong with them and eventually I give up.

Dear Kurt: Not that much. Move out of the house before you die of suffocation. She'll live.

Dog Days Ahead

Dear Ann: I'm a middle-aged woman with an unheard-of problem. I'll probably ruffle a lot of feathers with this statement but I must be honest. I don't like dogs.

I'm not allergic to them, nor am I afraid of them. I just don't want to be bothered.

I know this is like being against motherhood and the United States Marines, but I just can't help it, nor do I wish to.

The problem is a man with whom I've been going for almost a year has ordered a very special Scotch Terrier as a birthday surprise. (His sister let the secret slip.) The dog should be here in about two weeks.

I hate to hurt his feelings but I don't want the dog. Please tell me what to do. — MISS MEANIE.

Dear Meanie: Your friend should have checked with you before going ahead with his plans.

Even dog lovers must admit that a dog means work, care, expense and responsibility. Not everyone wants them.

When the gift arrives, tell your fiance as gently as possible that you are unable to give the animal the care he deserves, and it would be unfair to accept it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Bouncing' Pilot Forced Down In Wooster District

A Minnesota pilot who made a forced landing Oct. 29 on a farm near Hammondsville is being plagued with bad luck. He was forced down again over the weekend on a farm south of Wooster.

Verne Goudy, who was en route to Delaware, was first forced down in a field on the farm of Clyde Workman of the Hammondsville-Bergholz Rd.

The propellor of his PT-23 World War II trainer was shattered in the landing and the right wing was punctured.

Goudy then returned home. Over the weekend he returned, made repairs to the plane and took off early Saturday morning, heading for the Toronto airport.

Goudy became lost and landed instead at Amsterdam at 9 a. m. He was given proper directions but ended up at the Wintersville airport at 2 p. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said he remained overnight at a motel and then took off, heading toward Minnesota, Sunday morning about 9.

He apparently became lost again and was forced down south of Wooster. He again abandoned the plane and took a bus home, officers learned.

The patrol said the reason he is having so much trouble is because he doesn't have a compass and flies by sight alone.

Probation Granted 3 Boys In Cigarette Theft

LISBON — Three Lisbon area youths, 12, 16 and 17, were placed on probation to the Welfare Department for breaking into a cigarette machine at a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The youths admitted breaking into the machine at a local laundromat Nov. 4 but told the judge they stole only 20 packs of cigarettes, of which 16 were recovered.

The owner told police 30 packs were taken so the youths will pay for those not recovered. There was no damage to the machine, police said.

Charter members, Charles Moore, Clyde McDaniel, John Ruhe, Neil Adkins, Edward Wolfe, Louis Jackson, David Marlott, Harry Landfried, Edward Landfried, Walter Green, Karl Hyatt, Frank Givens, George Hargraves, Charles Burns and Frank Stevens were honored.

Herman D. Devor of Greenville, past state commander, was guest speaker. He was introduced by Robert Poynter, past post and county commander, who served as master of ceremonies.

He spoke on "Veterans Day" and pointed out that "if it serves no other purpose, Veterans Day should demonstrate to the world the national unity which is the strength of this country."

"It should be a constant reminder to all of us that this country has an obligation to maintain constant vigilance and intensified military preparedness, if we are to continue to meet the challenges of both today and tomorrow, Devor said.

Guests included Mayor and Mrs. Bert Goodballet, Cliff Cooper, past deputy commander, and his wife, and Robert Knoble of Apple Creek 10th District second vice commander, and his wife. James Cregar, commander, gave the address of welcome.

The invocation and benediction were by the Rev. James Gardner, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Self-Defense

"I went over and got astride Salsberry's back and slugged him with the blackjack," Furgason testified. "Then I noticed that he had a gun in his hand, with his finger on the trigger. Barnes had ahold of the gun barrel with his left hand. They were fighting over the weapon.

"I tried to put my right foot on the gun, but I couldn't because of the struggle," the officer continued. "I couldn't remove the gun because they both had a 'death grip' on it. I feared if I pulled Salsberry off the weapon would discharge."

At that time, the officer said, there was no evidence either man had been shot.

The officer said he then left the hotel, went to his parked cruiser and radioed for help. While he was making the call, he heard a shot from the hotel, he related. He estimated he had been outside "not over 30 or 45 seconds." About that time Lt. Winters arrived on foot and the 2 officers went into the hotel together.

When the two officers entered the lobby Salsberry was standing over Barnes, who was on the floor, Furgason said. Barnes had been shot in the hand, he added.

"Lt. Winters grabbed his gun hand and I grabbed the other," he said. "Then Patrolman Robert Pyle ran in and he also grabbed Salsberry. We wrestled him onto the floor. Salsberry complained he had been shot in the groin. Lt. Winters tried to examine him, but couldn't because of his struggling. There was no blood on his clothing."

Then Barnes was taken to City Hospital in an ambulance and Salsberry was taken to headquarters, the officers said. Finally able to examine Salsberry at the station, the officers found he had been shot and removed him to the hospital also, he related.

In his cross-examination, Atty. Alexander took the line that Salsberry had been shot before Barnes. Ferguson said he did not know, but repeated that he heard only one shot.

Lt. Winters also related the story of separating the men and taking the gun from Salsberry. He said he removed the gun from Salsberry's hand while the other two officers grappled with the defendant.

Lt. Winters said investigation showed a bullet hole in the ceiling of the lobby. Another bullet removed from Salsberry at the hospital accounted for a second shot, he said. However, the revolver had four empty shells and four loaded cartridges in its chamber, he said.

The hearing was recessed as the lieutenant said under cross-examination that Barnes had admitted to police that he fired the first shot at Salsberry.

Numbers

Judge Chertoff explained that the hearings for Stockdale and Mrs. Parr originally were set tomorrow, but they were continued until next Tuesday — along with Davidson's case — after Atty. Don Smith, counsel for all three, advised the court he will be out of town for a week.

Patrolman Charles A. Winters took Davidson into custody at 12:45 p. m. yesterday in the Green Mill Restaurant on Dresden Ave. The officer said he entered via the back door and walked through the premises, spotting Davidson sitting in a booth with a book of alleged numbers slips before him on the table. In addition to the book, Davidson was carrying $7.10, the officer said.

Like the charge against Mrs. Parr, the affidavit filed in the Davidson case alleges that he was in possession of numbers slips "unlawfully and knowingly." The charge was brought under the tough anti-lottery ordinance that went into effect early in the year.

Meanwhile, police warned tavern owners they may lose their permits if they allow their premises to be used for conducting a lottery operation.

Self-Defense

"I went over and got astride Salsberry's back and slugged him with the blackjack," Furgason testified. "Then I noticed that he had a gun in his hand, with his finger on the trigger. Barnes had ahold of the gun barrel with his left hand. They were fighting over the weapon.

"I tried to put my right foot on the gun, but I couldn't because of the struggle," the officer continued. "I couldn't remove the gun because they both had a 'death grip' on it. I feared if I pulled Salsberry off the weapon would discharge."

At that time, the officer said, there was no evidence either man had been shot.

The officer said he then left the hotel, went to his parked cruiser and radioed for help. While he was making the call, he heard a shot from the hotel, he related. He estimated he had been outside "not over 30 or 45 seconds." About that time Lt. Winters arrived on foot and the 2 officers went into the hotel together.

When the two officers entered the lobby Salsberry was standing over Barnes, who was on the floor, Furgason said. Barnes had been shot in the hand, he added.

"Lt. Winters grabbed his gun hand and I grabbed the other," he said. "Then Patrolman Robert Pyle ran in and he also grabbed Salsberry. We wrestled him onto the floor. Salsberry complained he had been shot in the groin. Lt. Winters tried to examine him, but couldn't because of his struggling. There was no blood on his clothing."

Then Barnes was taken to City Hospital in an ambulance and Salsberry was taken to headquarters, the officers said. Finally able to examine Salsberry at the station, the officers found he had been shot and removed him to the hospital also, he related.

In his cross-examination, Atty. Alexander took the line that Salsberry had been shot before Barnes. Ferguson said he did not know, but repeated that he heard only one shot.

Lt. Winters also related the story of separating the men and taking the gun from Salsberry. He said he removed the gun from Salsberry's hand while the other two officers grappled with the defendant.

Lt. Winters said investigation showed a bullet hole in the ceiling of the lobby. Another bullet removed from Salsberry at the hospital accounted for a second shot, he said. However, the revolver had four empty shells and four loaded cartridges in its chamber, he said.

The hearing was recessed as the lieutenant said under cross-examination that Barnes had admitted to police that he fired the first shot at Salsberry.

Numbers

Judge Chertoff explained that the hearings for Stockdale and Mrs. Parr originally were set tomorrow, but they were continued until next Tuesday — along with Davidson's case — after Atty. Don Smith, counsel for all three, advised the court he will be out of town for a week.

Patrolman Charles A. Winters took Davidson into custody at 12:45 p. m. yesterday in the Green Mill Restaurant on Dresden Ave. The officer said he entered via the back door and walked through the premises, spotting Davidson sitting in a booth with a book of alleged numbers slips before him on the table. In addition to the book, Davidson was carrying $7.10, the officer said.

Like the charge against Mrs. Parr, the affidavit filed in the Davidson case alleges that he was in possession of numbers slips "unlawfully and knowingly." The charge was brought under the tough anti-lottery ordinance that went into effect early in the year.

Meanwhile, police warned tavern owners they may lose their permits if they allow their premises to be used for conducting a lottery operation.

Reducing Club Proves Boon To Dieters

The success of reducing clubs is based on the principle that by banding together overweights can accomplish what they cannot do alone. In a club of this kind, all the members have overweight in common. However, this single interest may not give sufficient motivation as the following letter indicates:

By Ida Jean Kain

"We are interest in establishing a diet club. We belonged to one some time ago but it collapsed. The members were quite some distance apart . . . geographically, weight-wise, and in our ages. Some had about 100 excess pounds to lose, others only 15 or 20. Also our ages were from 25 to 70. We lost interest.

"Now we want to start a club in our vicinity, and I have been delegated to write for information and pointers to get it started.

WE KNOW OF only three people who would be interested and we would like a few more to start our club. Should we advertise, or what? We are very anxious to get started. We each lost 40 pounds before, but alas have gained it back again. At presented, we each weigh over 200 pounds."

A medical check-up should be a prerequisite to joining a reducing club. Your neighborhood doctor is in an excellent position to suggest possible club members.

Another way to locate eligible members would be to ask your neighborhood newspaper to write a short story, telling women about your club and inviting those who need to lose a similar amount to get in touch.

While 25 to 70 is a great disparity in age, the amount of weight to be lost is more important. If a teen-ager who needed to lose your same amount would beg to join your group, you would no doubt all find yourself trying your best to help her! Also, you could benefit from her youthful enthusiasm.

To keep up interest, each member should have a definite responsibility. One can take charge of weighing in; another of charting the graph progress; a third of taking measurements, etc.

It is necessary to have a general chairman to organize the club. Some clubs try this plan: Each member has charge of a specific meeting — it is her responsibility to keep her particular meeting interesting.

ONE MEMBER might decide to turn her club day into a cooking demonstration and show how she cooks low calorie dishes. Another member might get a special speaker — a nutrition or exercise authority or a doctor — for her meeting. There are all kinds of possibilities. With enthusiasm you can do anything!

It is highly important to take care of the prime reason for getting together in a business - like way . . . otherwise the group sessions will tend to be merely social sympathizing. It might be a good plan to allow a quarter-hour at the end of the meeting for chatting and general socializing.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Slimming Clubs" and "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Performers' Strike Looms In TV, Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for the major television and radio networks and a performers' union continue contract talks today with prospects that the session might continue right up to the strike deadline at midnight tonight.

Minor progress was reported by a spokesman for the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) after Monday's discussions.

Radio and television performers in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles have authorized their national board to call a strike if new contract agreements are not reached. The union has about 16,000 members.

Such a strike would be the first by performers against network operations. It could black out live performances and stop the taping of shows and commercials.

AFTRA is seeking a 10 per cent increase in performer fees and higher payments to performers for reruns of commercials.

The federation's demands have been called "completely out of line" by an executive of a major advertising agency.

The networks represented in the negotiations are the American Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System, the National Broadcasting Co., and the Mutual Broadcasting System. MBS is a radio-only network.

Also sitting in on the AFTRA talks are representatives of the Screen Actors Guild, which has network contracts covering filmed commercials.

4 Held In Alleged Plot To Bilk Horse Race Bookmakers

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP) — Four Cleveland men are held in jail today for a preliminary hearing on police allegations that they tried or planned to bilk horse bookmakers in a scheme involving a radio transmitter and receiving sets.

Frank Sparent, 34, Silby Devito, Vincent Loicano, 45, and Tony Franchino, 34, all denied knowledge of the radio equipment that police say they found in a car owned by one of them.

Police said they believe the scheme would work like this:

One man would be at a race track and use a high-powered radio transmitter to send word of the winners to the others, who would have several small radio receiving sets which could be strapped to a leg. The other men, in turn, would place bets before the bookies had learned of the winners.

Funeral Set Wednesday

CINCINNATI (AP) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Mrs. Lucy B. Clason, 90, a descendant of Joseph Ward, Revolutionary War soldier who in 1799 was the first settler in the Madisonville area of Cincinnati. She died Sunday.

Patrick Henry delivered his "Give me liberty or give me death" speech in St. John's Church in Richmond, Va.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean a greasy concrete floor?

A. Scatter some trisodium phosphate thickly on the spots, and then sprinkle on just enough water to dissolve the chemical. Wait an hour or more, then scrub the floor with water. If one application fails to remove the stains, keep repeating until success is yours.

Q. How should fur be dried?

A. Never dry wet fur that has been worn in a rain or snow storm near heat. Intense heat injures fur. Remove excess moisture with a dry cloth and hang the fur in a cool place to dry.

Ex-Democratic Figure Freed On Drunk Count

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Municipal court has freed Camille F. Gravel, former Democratic national committeeman from Louisiana, of an intoxication charge arising from an incident aboard an airplane last July 1.

The complaint was dismissed Monday after the prosecutor told the court that he did not have a strong case.

Gravel, who had pleaded innocent, was arrested when he alighted from an airliner to attend the Democratic National Convention. The pilot had radioed a report that a passenger was drunk.

Power-Packed Atlas Streaks 5,000 Miles

The Air Force reported the Atlas, America's most potent military rocket, achieved all test objectives in plunking its nose cone on target near Ascension Island in the South Atlantic.

Ships and planes began a search for a data capsule that popped out of the 1½-ton cone and was parachuted into the sea.

By MARIE TORRE

What Is 'Popular Demand'?

"By popular demand," a term used freely and indiscriminately in television, has cropped up in connection with a half-hour situation comedy called "Happy." This, you may remember, was a summer series about a "talking" baby.

Marie Torre

"Happy" made a totally welcome departure (we thought it would never go!) upon the return, this season, of "Perry Como's Music Hall," half of which it had replaced during the summer. But now it's learned that "Happy" will return — "by popular demand," of course — as part of a "90-minute block of happy - hearted programming" on NBC Friday nights beginning in January.

WHILE IT'S strongly suspected that NBC hasn't the vaguest idea what cheers this old heart, the puzzler is who, what and where is this public which "demands?"

Certainly the critics did not demand the return of "Happy." Nay, it was the other way around, as we recall. The critical adjectives leveled at "Happy" ranged from "embarrassing" to "inane" to "inept."

"TV critics always are accusing the TV people of playing to 12-year-old minds, but in the case of 'Happy,'" wrote one reviewer, "it is believed that some of the 12-year-old minds got into the play — or maybe we're doing that age group an injustice."

If the public demanded the return of "Happy" in letters to NBC, the network hasn't produced them, or even alluded to them. If NBC interpreted the show's moderately high ratings during the summer as an indication of public favor, this would be a faulty measurement of viewer taste, for we all know what summer programming is like — one repeat after another — and even a poor new show is preferable to a good old show.

THE DISTURBING aspect of the "Happy" revival is that it illustrates all too vividly that success in television isn't commensurate with superior entertainment. The fact that "Happy" is the only show of last summer's new programs to rate a winter berth proves the point.

There were, during the summer, at least two weekly endeavors which managed to draw both critical acclaim and good ratings. One was "The Robert Herridge Theater"; the other, "Silents, Please," an interesting, well - edited collection of silent motion pictures which outrated its NBC-CBS opponents every week.

But the summer show chosen to return to TV is "Happy," which maybe not so incidentally happens to be produced by Roncom Video Films, Inc., a company in the estate of NBC's own Perry Como.

A 1961-62 TV prospect is "Grand Deception," based on a volume of the "greatest hoax stories of all time." The TV rights to the book by Alexander Klein have been acquired jointly by Screen Gems and Freddie Fields Associates, Ltd. . . .

Last week marked finis to Betty Furness' 11-year association with Westinghouse. The best refrigerator opener in the business will seek acting assignments from now on. . .

Old "I Love Lucy" films never die, or even fade away! CBS will run "Lucy" repeats Sundays at 6 p.m. . .

Ed Sullivan will be the subject of the third annual "Closeup, 1961," given by the New York Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Offers Asked Nov. 30 For New Police Radio

Bids will be opened at City Hall at noon Wednesday, Nov. 30, on furnishing and maintaining a new two-way radio system for the police department, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver said today.

Suppliers will be asked to bid on a five-year contract. There are two alternatives — an offer under which the city could apply the lease payments toward the purchase price and eventually take over ownership of the system and another with monthly rental payments resulting in no change in ownership.

The present system is owned by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and maintained under contract. However, the telephone company is under a Federal Court order to get out of the radio business by early 1961, resulting in the city's quest for a new system.

Fund Leaders Are Called On To Spur Drive

To spur more active solicitation of prospective donors to the Community Fund campaign, Chairman William A. Black yesterday called leaders of the nine major drive divisions to a special meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

All three urged division leaders to contact key personnel in their respective units and urge immediate contact of assigned lists of donors, with prompt submission of reports to Community Fund headquarters in the YMCA Building.

"We know," said Black, "from the scattered reports already in that most area residents are willing, even anxious, to support the work of the six fund agencies with their gifts. It remains only for our drive divisions to function promptly and thoroughly in calling on these people and then turning in pledges and gifts received. Every effort should be made to conclude all solicitations and wind up the campaign by the end of the month."

Werner indicated that a study of the reports in thus far reveals the size of gifts is fairly even with the pattern established last year, but a "substantial number of pledges are up to 10 per cent higher". "This is heartening," he added, "since it shows that at least some people are aware of the increased costs to which each of the six fund agencies are subjected in continuing operations. It is to be hoped that many donors will give more this year. For, although we have set the same goal for 1961, we were not able to meet our budget last year."

Boyce also urged that division leaders "furnish the motivation that will spur these volunteer workers to quicker and greater effort to conclude the campaign promptly".

Skipper, Believed Going Berserk, Taken Off Ship

CLEVELAND (AP) — The skipper of an ocean-going Liberian-flag freighter was removed from his ship here Monday when he appeared to go berserk in his cabin. Accompanied by a policeman and a priest, Capt. Antonio Hernandez, 28, of Balboa, Spain, was admitted to Cleveland Psychiatric Institute and Hospital.

Sent to the freighter Celia B., police said Hernandez was scratching crosses on the cabin woodwork with his fingernails and threatening bodily harm to himself.

The Celia B., tied up here since the weekend, was scheduled to leave Monday but remained in port under command of the first mate.

$100,000 Loss Seen In Cleveland Blaze

The flames spread to the nearby H. Blonder Co. Wallpaper and Paint Store.

About 50 persons fled the area. Most of them were residents of the Market Square Hotel, a three-story brick structure above two stores.

County Courts Report 288 Cases In October

LISBON — Columbiana County's three county courts handled 288 criminal cases and 89 civil cases during October, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

A total of $2,374.90 was paid into the county treasury in fines in State Highway Patrol cases and $1,097.35 for costs and $174.45 in civil cases during the month, giving the county a total of $3,646.70. The state treasurer also received $1,821.60 for the patrol's 45 per cent of the fines, Stacey said.

Soviet Hikes Value Of Ruble To Higher Than U.S. Dollar

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union declared today that its new heavy ruble will be worth more than the dollar. Western economic experts in Moscow said the chief motive probably was prestige.

Under a decree the official rate of exchange will be changed Jan. 1 from four rubles for $1 to one ruble for $1.11. The Soviet government said the new rate would reflect a fourfold increase of the ruble to be put into effect on that date.

However, the ruble that will be put into circulation at that time is being exchanged for 10 of the present rubles.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said in its announcement of the currency revaluation that the state bank was instructed "to increase the rate of exchange of the ruble with the currency of other capitalist countries in conformity with the higher gold content of the ruble."

Western economists here said prestige was more likely one of the motives for the currency revaluation because of the weakness the dollar has shown recently in foreign markets—a weakness that has led to such things as the pushing up of the price of gold on the London exchange.

They said the actual effect of decreeing that the dollar will be worth only 90 kopecks—there are 100 kopecks in the ruble—instead of four rubles was negligible unless the ruble is made into convertible currency which can be freely changed into other money in international commerce.

Sex Offenders Being Traced In Girl's Death

PAULDING, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today checked out a number of known sex offenders in northwestern Ohio, trying to get a lead on what Sheriff John Keeler calls the sex slaying of 14 - year-old Nancy Eagleson.

The sheriff said today that a sexual attack on the young Paulding girl appeared to be the only motive behind her death.

Nancy's fully-clothed body—except for her undergarments—was found in a wooded area early Monday by two hunters near the hamlet of Junction, eight miles northeast of here. The undergarments were lying close by.

A preliminary autopsy report, the sheriff said, showed the girl had been criminally assaulted and shot once through the head with a small caliber weapon.

Nancy and her sister, Cheryl, 5, were returning home from a movie Sunday night when the killer struck. He dragged Nancy off a Paulding street and into his car and rode off.

Cheryl ran to a neighbor's house at the first sign of danger. The neighbors called the sheriff's office. Sheriff Keeler said it was a lucky thing the little girl didn't stick around or the killer might have grabbed her, too.

Keeler said the only mark of identification that Cheryl remembers about the killer is that he wore horn-rimmed glasses.

But beyond that, the sheriff added, he has no leads—none that he'll divulge, at any rate.

Returned To Saigon

SAIGON, South Piet Nam (AP) —Gen. Thai Quans Hoang, Saigon's military commander who was taken hostage when rebel leaders fled to Cambodia after their coup collapsed, was returned here today in an air force plane.

But the summer show chosen to return to TV is "Happy," which maybe not so incidentally happens to be produced by Roncom Video Films, Inc., a company in the estate of NBC's own Perry Como.

Offers Asked Nov. 30 For New Police Radio

Bids will be opened at City Hall at noon Wednesday, Nov. 30, on furnishing and maintaining a new two-way radio system for the police department, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver said today.

Suppliers will be asked to bid on a five-year contract. There are two alternatives — an offer under which the city could apply the lease payments toward the purchase price and eventually take over ownership of the system and another with monthly rental payments resulting in no change in ownership.

The present system is owned by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and maintained under contract. However, the telephone company is under a Federal Court order to get out of the radio business by early 1961, resulting in the city's quest for a new system.

Fund Leaders Are Called On To Spur Drive

To spur more active solicitation of prospective donors to the Community Fund campaign, Chairman William A. Black yesterday called leaders of the nine major drive divisions to a special meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

All three urged division leaders to contact key personnel in their respective units and urge immediate contact of assigned lists of donors, with prompt submission of reports to Community Fund headquarters in the YMCA Building.

"We know," said Black, "from the scattered reports already in that most area residents are willing, even anxious, to support the work of the six fund agencies with their gifts. It remains only for our drive divisions to function promptly and thoroughly in calling on these people and then turning in pledges and gifts received. Every effort should be made to conclude all solicitations and wind up the campaign by the end of the month."

Werner indicated that a study of the reports in thus far reveals the size of gifts is fairly even with the pattern established last year, but a "substantial number of pledges are up to 10 per cent higher". "This is heartening," he added, "since it shows that at least some people are aware of the increased costs to which each of the six fund agencies are subjected in continuing operations. It is to be hoped that many donors will give more this year. For, although we have set the same goal for 1961, we were not able to meet our budget last year."

Boyce also urged that division leaders "furnish the motivation that will spur these volunteer workers to quicker and greater effort to conclude the campaign promptly".

Skipper, Believed Going Berserk, Taken Off Ship

CLEVELAND (AP) — The skipper of an ocean-going Liberian-flag freighter was removed from his ship here Monday when he appeared to go berserk in his cabin. Accompanied by a policeman and a priest, Capt. Antonio Hernandez, 28, of Balboa, Spain, was admitted to Cleveland Psychiatric Institute and Hospital.

Sent to the freighter Celia B., police said Hernandez was scratching crosses on the cabin woodwork with his fingernails and threatening bodily harm to himself.

The Celia B., tied up here since the weekend, was scheduled to leave Monday but remained in port under command of the first mate.

$100,000 Loss Seen In Cleveland Blaze

About 50 persons fled the area. Most of them were residents of the Market Square Hotel, a three-story brick structure above two stores.

County Courts Report 288 Cases In October

LISBON — Columbiana County's three county courts handled 288 criminal cases and 89 civil cases during October, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

A total of $2,374.90 was paid into the county treasury in fines in State Highway Patrol cases and $1,097.35 for costs and $174.45 in civil cases during the month, giving the county a total of $3,646.70. The state treasurer also received $1,821.60 for the patrol's 45 per cent of the fines, Stacey said.

Soviet Hikes Value Of Ruble To Higher Than U.S. Dollar

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union declared today that its new heavy ruble will be worth more than the dollar. Western economic experts in Moscow said the chief motive probably was prestige.

Under a decree the official rate of exchange will be changed Jan. 1 from four rubles for $1 to one ruble for $1.11. The Soviet government said the new rate would reflect a fourfold increase of the ruble to be put into effect on that date.

However, the ruble that will be put into circulation at that time is being exchanged for 10 of the present rubles.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said in its announcement of the currency revaluation that the state bank was instructed "to increase the rate of exchange of the ruble with the currency of other capitalist countries in conformity with the higher gold content of the ruble."

Western economists here said prestige was more likely one of the motives for the currency revaluation because of the weakness the dollar has shown recently in foreign markets—a weakness that has led to such things as the pushing up of the price of gold on the London exchange.

They said the actual effect of decreeing that the dollar will be worth only 90 kopecks—there are 100 kopecks in the ruble—instead of four rubles was negligible unless the ruble is made into convertible currency which can be freely changed into other money in international commerce.

Sex Offenders Being Traced In Girl's Death

PAULDING, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today checked out a number of known sex offenders in northwestern Ohio, trying to get a lead on what Sheriff John Keeler calls the sex slaying of 14 - year-old Nancy Eagleson.

The sheriff said today that a sexual attack on the young Paulding girl appeared to be the only motive behind her death.

Nancy's fully-clothed body—except for her undergarments—was found in a wooded area early Monday by two hunters near the hamlet of Junction, eight miles northeast of here. The undergarments were lying close by.

A preliminary autopsy report, the sheriff said, showed the girl had been criminally assaulted and shot once through the head with a small caliber weapon.

Nancy and her sister, Cheryl, 5, were returning home from a movie Sunday night when the killer struck. He dragged Nancy off a Paulding street and into his car and rode off.

Cheryl ran to a neighbor's house at the first sign of danger. The neighbors called the sheriff's office. Sheriff Keeler said it was a lucky thing the little girl didn't stick around or the killer might have grabbed her, too.

Keeler said the only mark of identification that Cheryl remembers about the killer is that he wore horn-rimmed glasses.

But beyond that, the sheriff added, he has no leads—none that he'll divulge, at any rate.

Returned To Saigon

Canton's Line Spells Difference . . .

Into every season a little rain must fall. And it fell on the Potters Saturday night.

East Liverpool couldn't push a heavy Canton line out of the way. And that was about the story.

Venditti compared the 22-0 loss Saturday to Canton Central with the Salem game of a year ago when the Potters lost 20-0.

"Everything centered around the quarterback. Bob Mackall was injured before that game and didn't start," Venditti said.

"I finally put him in and Salem intercepted a pass and went for a touchdown. Then Janovec stole the ball off Mackall and ran 50 yards for another touchdown."

Saturday, Canton turned two pass interceptions into touchdowns, something that doesn't happen too often when Cunningham is throwing.

It was the hardest that Cunningham had been rushed all season, and in football circles they say the best pass defense is to rush the passer.

"AFTER the game, the coaching staff thought we played a lousy game," Venditti said. "But after seeing the movies of the game, we played a very good game. We were just out personeled."

Venditti pointed out that his team was hitting just as hard as ever, but just couldn't move the bigger Canton line.

"We made three big mistakes, the two pass interceptions and we allowed them to run around the end once," Venditti said.

"Other than that, we played just as well Saturday as we did the Salem game."

"I thought definsively they were very good. And it was the best pass defense we have faced. Offensively, Canton was poor."

"I have to point out the outstanding play of Bud Myers. He's a real fine football player. And also the work of Joe Thompson."

Nunzio Polichene, Potter assistant, pointed out that in one stretch Myers made three consecutive tackles.

The Potters suffered more penalties in the Canton game than they have experienced at any other time this season. The officials seemed to have their own definition of illegal use of hands.

Venditti said Larry Crook was called three times for this violation, but the Potter guard told Venditti after the game," If I was using my hands illegally, than I've been doing it all season."

Purdue Team Has Close Call . . .

EVERYTHING had gone so well for Purdue University Saturday after the upset over Minnesota that the players flying back to Lafayette, Ind., felt something was bound to happen. It did!

About 50 miles from Madison, Wis., one of the two engines on the DC 3 stopped. Bernie Allen of East Liverpool was one of the first to notice it. He yelled, "Hey, fellas, we only have one engine!"

The first thing to come into the minds of the 25 players and coaches was the crash on the takeoff from Toledo two weeks ago in which 16 players of the California Poly football team were killed.

However the plane landed safely at 6:50 p. m. and the Purdue players had to wait until 9:45 p. m. when another plane arrived to take them to Lafayette.

Two planes flew the Purdue team to Minneapolis.

Allen Makes Strongest Bid . . .

IF ANY Big 10 football player dropped a bid into the All-American mailbox Saturday it was Allen.

Earlier in the season, Purdue upset Ohio State, all but knocking the Buckeyes from the race, and Saturday did it again to Minnesota.

Not only did it effect the Gophers' chances for a bowl bid but will no doubt push them right out of the No. 1 spot they held in the college poll last week.

Allen had his right arm and leg well oiled Saturday. He set up two touchdowns with his pinpoint passing and split the uprights on a 25-yard field goal at a crucial time when the Gophers were making a strong comeback.

This upset, coming at the end of the season, when the experts figured Minnesota in, might be the big break Allen needed to put him on an All-American team.

WE WATCHED Jim Potts in action Saturday when Ohio University defeated Bowling Green, 14-7, to win the Mid-American Conference title and a possible small college championship.

Potts ran the Falcons flawlessly, however, Coach Doyt Perry called the plays from the sidelines and Potts was not given a free hand to pass much.

He did, however, complete four of five passes, all of the short variety. He didn't fumble and his timing and handoffs went smooth.

Trapped once in back of the line of scrimmage as he attempted to pass, Potts ran with the ball and picked up 20 yards.

The ex-Potter quarterback also handled all the punting chores for the Falcons. He is a junior this year.

COMING RIGHT down the line, in the Ohio Conference Nick Musuraca, another East Liverpool boy, scored three touchdowns in Denison's 47-6 victory over Oberlin.

Musuraca picked up 150 yards and is nearing two school marks at Denison. He has 11 touchdowns for the season and his rushing yardage is near a school record.

CONGRATULATIONS to Ron McLaughlin, the Beaver Local senior, who is the new district scoring champ. In 10 games, he tallied 132 points.

He made quite an impression Friday night at Northwest when Beaver Local dropped its finale. Ron picked up more than 150 yards rushing and scored all of his team's 16 points.

After the game Northwest fans, mostly Booster Club members from that school, came into the Beaver Local dressing room to congratulate McLaughlin.

Massillon Grabs Big Lead In Ohio Poll

Niles Takes 2nd, Alliance In Third

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sport Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohsio (AP) — Only Canton McKinley, its most honored foe, stands today between Massillon and its second straight Ohio high school football championship.

Massillon meets McKinley's Bulldogs, the 1955 and 1956 champions, in next Saturday's windup, with some 20,000 due to view the clash. McKinley, coached by canny Jim Robinson, has a 6-4 record after drubbing Erie, Pa., Academy 66-14 Saturday.

The Tigers defeated Springfield South, last year's No. 2 team, by a whopping 62-32 score Friday to dispose of one of the threats. Alliance, second in the ratings, was dumped 16-14 by Niles McKinley; third-rated Sandusky was nosed out 6-0 by Marion Harding for its lone loss; and Lima Senior, the fourth-placer, was victimized 33-21 by Hamilton Garfield. Springfield, rated fifth up to the Massillon tilt, was ousted from the ratings.

Art Hastings scored four touchdowns for the Tigers against the Wildcats, all on running plays, while Springfield's Phil Westfall passed for all five of his team's scores. The 'Cats registered the most points ever scored by a loser against Massillon, 21 being the previous high.

As the series of upper echelon defeats cleared Massillon's path, 15 of the 43 sports writers in the poll tagged the Tigers No. 1. A rollicking total of 331 poll points rolled in for Massillon, as Niles vaulted from eighth to second with 196 after nicking the Aviators.

Alliance skidded only to third, and Marion Harding advanced three notches to fourth, with Sandusky slipping from third to fifth. As Springfield and Cincinnati Roger Bacon fell from the elite list—the latter despite a 51-0 verdict over Cincinnati Elder—Dayton Colonel White and Troy moved in.

The Dayton team has amassed 504 points in nine games, and Troy 491 in 10, the most impressive scoring records in the Top Ten.

The state championship will be decided in next week's poll. Of the current Top Ten, six teams have colpleted the campaign—but a loss by any of the other four could change the ratings.

In addition to the Massillon-McKinley game Saturday, the other frays—all Friday—call for Alliance (No. 3) at East Liverpool, Dayton White (No. 6) vs. Dayton Chaminade, and Toledo Central Catholic (No. 8) vs Muskegon (Mich.) Central Catholic in the Toledo Glass Bowl.

From here and there: Massillon and Canton McKinley have met 64 times dating back to 1894. The Tigers lead the series, 32-27-5.

Luther Emery of the Massillon Independent has been singing Niles McKinley's praises all year—and the Alliance victory proved his point. Aviator mentor Mel Knowlton, former coach of the year, said Niles is the strongest team, physically, his boys have faced.

Watch Hamilton Garfield next year! Coach Lou Florio used only a smattering of seniors in the win over Lima Senior, and all the key men will be back. Despite the loss, Lima's Tom Barrington raced 80 yards with a kickoff and plunged a yard for touchdowns to give him a school record of 15 for the year.

Hopedale, playing 11-man football for the first time, swept over nine straight foes. For the second straight year Shelby came up to its final game without a loss, only to tumble. Last year Wooster was the villian, 20-0, and this year Mansfield Madison triumphed 26-14.

Of the top 10 teams only Dayton Colonel White and Cincinnati Purcell are unblemished. Unbeaten teams not making the grade include:

Ten wins—Wooster, Fremont St. Joe, Franklin, Martins Ferry, Urbana, West Milton and Covington; nine wins—Butler, Hopedale and Northeastern of Clark County; eight wins—Cardington and Lowellville.

Massillon has retired two of the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophies emblematic of the state title awarded annually to the winner in the Associated Press poll—and will get the first leg on another if the Tigers triumph this season. The trophy must be won three times for permanent possession—and the Tigers are the only ones to do it.

USING THE tool of his trade—a football—Ron McLaughlin of Beaver Local points to his total of 132 points which gave him the district individual scoring title for 1960. McLaughlin, a senior halfback at the Williamsport school, scored 19 touchdowns and 18 conversions.

Salem Is Top Team

Beaver Local's McLaughlin Wins District Scoring Title

Ron's high for the season was 32 points against Stanton Local when he raced for five touchdowns and a conversion. He scored 20 against Salineville, 18 in the South Side game and 16 each in the United and Northwest contests.

He was held to one touchdown against Chester, Fairfield-Waterford and Wellsville and was blanked once, by West Branch.

In 10 games McLaughlin picked up 1,258 yards rushing and passing. He caught 9 passes covering 319 yards and intercepted 3.

Runnerup in the district scoring parade was Lisbon's Rick Bowling, who closed out the season with a touchdown and conversion against Canton-Jackson, giving him a total of 90.

Wellsville's Roger Ours was third with 86, collecting 8 points in the Leetonia contest. East Palestine's Jerry Bush, who was held scoreless in his final game, was fourth with 74, while two area gridders finished in a tie for fifth place.

While East Liverpool and Columbiana have one game to go, it will not have any effect on the outcome of the district's team standings.

Coach Howard Weyers' East Palestine eleven was runnerup with 7-1-1 and shared the Tri-County title with Poland.

Salem	9	1	0
East Palestine	7	1	0
Wellsville	7	2	1
Beaver Local	7	3	0

Cincy Players Seek To Keep Blackburn

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati apparently will take no action to get head football coach George Blackburn to withdraw his resignation despite a plea by football players that Blackburn stay on the job.

Monday, however, 59 varsity players and 35 freshmen gridders came up with a petition addressed to President Walter C. Langsam asking he get Blackburn to reconsider the resignation.

Athletic Director George Smith said, however, that the petition does not alter the situation.

"Mr. Blackburn has resigned," he said. "It's a good gesture that they (the team) think that much of Blackie. However, it does not mean that the thinking of the administration will be altered."

The petition of the players was read at the weekly luncheon Monday of the U.S. Boosters Club. Both Dr. Langsam and Blackburn were present.

Varsity players Fred Oblak and Ed Wolf read the petition. It said that it was through Blackburn's efforts that many of them enrolled at Cincinnati. It added:

"At no time have we ever doubted or questioned his good faith, his integrity, his sense of fair play, his knowledge of the game and, above all, his unyielding faith in his players.

"Furthermore, we acknowledge that at no time has he ever placed the playing of football ahead of our academic obligations."

At the time he submitted his resignation, Blackburn declared only that it was for the good of all concerned.

Stengel Honored At Dinner; Still Undecided On Next Turn

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—The inimitable Mr. Stengel—Casey, that is—took several hundred friends on an uprorious tour of his 50 years in baseball, from Kankakee to Yankee stadium, with innumerable detours through the English language Monday night.

But at the end, as one could best assemble his scrambled notes today, it was apparent Casey still doesn't know which road to pursue in his astonishing career.

The setting was the exclusive Verdugo Club. The dinner was a salute to Casey's golden anniversary in baseball. It also turned into a humorous lament for his surprise dismissal as manager of the Yankees.

County Supervisor Warren Dorn put it this way: "Next to the firing of General MacArthur by President Truman, the firing of Casey by the Yankees was the most shocking."

Master of ceremonies Leo Durocher, in a moment of high praise for Stengel, said he would like to be a coach for him. Durocher said that when he read of Stengel's firing, his reaction was in one word: "disgraceful."

His lengthy description of life in the raw old days finally led in some manner to the need for keeping the men's smoking room on trains in a sanitary condition. Some time later in his discourse Casey tied this commentary of the bad old days to the good new days with this thought:

Canton's Line Spells Difference . . .

Into every season a little rain must fall. And it fell on the Potters Saturday night.

East Liverpool couldn't push a heavy Canton line out of the way. And that was about the story.

Venditti compared the 22-0 loss Saturday to Canton Central with the Salem game of a year ago when the Potters lost 20-0.

"Everything centered around the quarterback. Bob Mackall was injured before that game and didn't start," Venditti said.

"I finally put him in and Salem intercepted a pass and went for a touchdown. Then Janovec stole the ball off Mackall and ran 50 yards for another touchdown."

Saturday, Canton turned two pass interceptions into touchdowns, something that doesn't happen too often when Cunningham is throwing.

It was the hardest that Cunningham had been rushed all season, and in football circles they say the best pass defense is to rush the passer.

"AFTER the game, the coaching staff thought we played a lousy game," Venditti said. "But after seeing the movies of the game, we played a very good game. We were just out personeled."

Venditti pointed out that his team was hitting just as hard as ever, but just couldn't move the bigger Canton line.

"We made three big mistakes, the two pass interceptions and we allowed them to run around the end once," Venditti said.

"Other than that, we played just as well Saturday as we did the Salem game."

"I thought definsively they were very good. And it was the best pass defense we have faced. Offensively, Canton was poor."

"I have to point out the outstanding play of Bud Myers. He's a real fine football player. And also the work of Joe Thompson."

Nunzio Polichene, Potter assistant, pointed out that in one stretch Myers made three consecutive tackles.

The Potters suffered more penalties in the Canton game than they have experienced at any other time this season. The officials seemed to have their own definition of illegal use of hands.

Venditti said Larry Crook was called three times for this violation, but the Potter guard told Venditti after the game," If I was using my hands illegally, than I've been doing it all season."

Purdue Team Has Close Call . . .

EVERYTHING had gone so well for Purdue University Saturday after the upset over Minnesota that the players flying back to Lafayette, Ind., felt something was bound to happen. It did!

About 50 miles from Madison, Wis., one of the two engines on the DC 3 stopped. Bernie Allen of East Liverpool was one of the first to notice it. He yelled, "Hey, fellas, we only have one engine!"

The first thing to come into the minds of the 25 players and coaches was the crash on the takeoff from Toledo two weeks ago in which 16 players of the California Poly football team were killed.

However the plane landed safely at 6:50 p. m. and the Purdue players had to wait until 9:45 p. m. when another plane arrived to take them to Lafayette.

Two planes flew the Purdue team to Minneapolis.

Allen Makes Strongest Bid . . .

IF ANY Big 10 football player dropped a bid into the All-American mailbox Saturday it was Allen.

Earlier in the season, Purdue upset Ohio State, all but knocking the Buckeyes from the race, and Saturday did it again to Minnesota.

Not only did it effect the Gophers' chances for a bowl bid but will no doubt push them right out of the No. 1 spot they held in the college poll last week.

Allen had his right arm and leg well oiled Saturday. He set up two touchdowns with his pinpoint passing and split the uprights on a 25-yard field goal at a crucial time when the Gophers were making a strong comeback.

This upset, coming at the end of the season, when the experts figured Minnesota in, might be the big break Allen needed to put him on an All-American team.

WE WATCHED Jim Potts in action Saturday when Ohio University defeated Bowling Green, 14-7, to win the Mid-American Conference title and a possible small college championship.

Potts ran the Falcons flawlessly, however, Coach Doyt Perry called the plays from the sidelines and Potts was not given a free hand to pass much.

He did, however, complete four of five passes, all of the short variety. He didn't fumble and his timing and handoffs went smooth.

Trapped once in back of the line of scrimmage as he attempted to pass, Potts ran with the ball and picked up 20 yards.

The ex-Potter quarterback also handled all the punting chores for the Falcons. He is a junior this year.

COMING RIGHT down the line, in the Ohio Conference Nick Musuraca, another East Liverpool boy, scored three touchdowns in Denison's 47-6 victory over Oberlin.

Musuraca picked up 150 yards and is nearing two school marks at Denison. He has 11 touchdowns for the season and his rushing yardage is near a school record.

CONGRATULATIONS to Ron McLaughlin, the Beaver Local senior, who is the new district scoring champ. In 10 games, he tallied 132 points.

He made quite an impression Friday night at Northwest when Beaver Local dropped its finale. Ron picked up more than 150 yards rushing and scored all of his team's 16 points.

After the game Northwest fans, mostly Booster Club members from that school, came into the Beaver Local dressing room to congratulate McLaughlin.

They told his coach Jack O'Rourke that he was one of the finest backs that had played against Northwest all season.

Massillon Grabs Big Lead In Ohio Poll

Niles Takes 2nd, Alliance In Third

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sport Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohsio (AP) — Only Canton McKinley, its most honored foe, stands today between Massillon and its second straight Ohio high school football championship.

The terrific Tigers moved far out front today in the weekly Associated Press poll as the top four challengers in last week's ratings went down to defeat.

Massillon meets McKinley's Bulldogs, the 1955 and 1956 champions, in next Saturday's windup, with some 20,000 due to view the clash. McKinley, coached by canny Jim Robinson, has a 6-4 record after drubbing Erie, Pa., Academy 66-14 Saturday.

The Tigers defeated Springfield South, last year's No. 2 team, by a whopping 62-32 score Friday to dispose of one of the threats. Alliance, second in the ratings, was dumped 16-14 by Niles McKinley; third-rated Sandusky was nosed out 6-0 by Marion Harding for its lone loss; and Lima Senior, the fourth-placer, was victimized 33-21 by Hamilton Garfield. Springfield, rated fifth up to the Massillon tilt, was ousted from the ratings.

Art Hastings scored four touchdowns for the Tigers against the Wildcats, all on running plays, while Springfield's Phil Westfall passed for all five of his team's scores. The 'Cats registered the most points ever scored by a loser against Massillon, 21 being the previous high.

Missouri Replaces Minnesota As Top Eleven In Nation

Gophers Drop To 4th Place; Hawkeyes 2nd

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unbeaten Missouri Tigers, winners of nine straight, have taken over the No. 1 place in the weekly Associated Press college football poll by a landslide vote of the 48-man panel of sports writers and sportscasters. Missouri had 34 first-place votes.

Missouri became the fifth team to hold the lead in the nine weeks of the poll, after running second for two weeks. When Minnesota, the defending No. 1 team, fell before Purdue 23-14, Missouri took over. Earlier in the season Mississippi and Iowa each led for three weeks. Syracuse and Minnesota each had one week on top.

After crushing Oklahoma 41-19 at Oklahoma, Missouri has only one more hurdle to clear. The Tigers' last regular season game will be played Saturday at home against Kansas.

The Iowa team upended by Minnesota a week ago bounced back impressively with a 35-12 victory over Ohio State and moved into second place. Iowa received six first-place votes to five for Mississippi, still unbeaten but tied once. Ole Miss advanced a peg to third by thumping Tennessee 24-3.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses (points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	Missouri (34)	457
2.	Iowa (7)	379
3.	Mississippi (5)	362
4.	Minnesota (1)	328
5.	Washington (1)	268
6.	Duke	205
7.	Arkansas	173
9.	Auburn (1)	104
10.	Ohio State	59

Others receiving votes were: UCLA 23, Michigan State 21, Purdue 12, Yale 9, Rice 9, New Mexico State 9, Syracuse 9, Alabama 8, Oregon 7, Florida 7, Utah State 6, Michigan 4, Army 3, Baylor 2, Texas 2, Kansas 1, Tennessee 1.

Injuries High In Pro Loops

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The medical report was the top priority item in many pro football camps today with such top-flight talent as Clarence Peaks, Charley Conerly and Johnny Unitas awaiting the final diagnosis of their breaks, bumps and bruises.

Peaks' injury may be a serious blow to the title chances of the Philadelphia Eagles, leading the Eastern Division in the National League but faced with the task of meeting the runnerup New York Giants Sunday in the first of two crucial clashes on successive weekends.

The latest X-rays taken of Peaks' right leg, hurt while the Eagles' fullback was playing against Washington last Sunday, confirmed a fracture of a bone above the ankle. The team physician estimated it will be four weeks before the NFL's fifth leading ground gainer can run.

Several stitches were required to close Unitas' face wounds but the Baltimore signal-caller is expected to recover from the multiple cuts and gouges he suffered against Chicago's bruising Bears in time for the Colts' next game.

In the American League, the casualty list showed Denver halfback Al Carmichael out for the remainder of the season with a broken leg, but Houston received a hopeful report on linebacker Phil Perlo.

The Oilers, who had to bench All-America Billy Cannon due to ineffectiveness caused by an injury early in the season, will use Perlo for about three weeks with back injuries. It was first feared he might have suffered permanent damage.

Jaycee Game Set Wednesday

Formidable Local All-Star Team Will Face Red Heads

A formidable group of local All-Stars will oppose the All-American Red Heads at Memorial Auditorium Wednesday night. The game will be sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees.

A doubleheader is set, with a preliminary at 7:30, pitting a team of former Midland High School and college stars against a squad from Wellsville.

Tipoff for the main event is 9. All proceeds will be used for youth activities and the "Toys For Tots" program. Russ Hall is game chairman.

East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester cagers who were standouts in high school and college several years ago head the All-Star team which will battle the flashy Red Heads.

They include Jim Harris, Frank Chan, Paul "Jessie" James, George Parfitt, Bill Thornberry and Jack Green of East Liverpool, Dan Baldwin of Wellsville and Steubenville College and Ted Robinson of Chester, top scorer in the City League last season. Chuck Winters will direct the All-Stars.

Last year they won 127 games and since they were established in 1936 have won at least 100 games or more each season.

Their lineup will include Shelby Teeder, 5-foot-11, in her third year with the team; Ella Cross, 6-1, pivot star and captain; Jan Hardy, sparkling dribbler and passer; Justine "Tex" Glover, 6-1, from Ft. Worth, called the "Goose Tatum" of the squad; Mary Bennet, a Georgia Red Head and the smallest girl ever signed by the team. She is 5-2, but is rated an outstanding set shot.

Tickets are on sale at Bloor's drugstores here and in Wellsville and at George's Pharmacy in Midland.

Lady Boosters Set Coverdish

Final plans for a coverdish dinner next Monday at Westgate school for the East Liverpool High School football team were completed Monday at a meeting of the Potter Lady Boosters Club.

Mrs. Helen Oliver was appointed chairman of the nominating committee which includes Mrs. Bertha Parsons, Mrs. Deloras Bodinar and Mrs. Betty Gotschall.

The next meeting will be Nov. 28 at 8 p. m. in the YMCA.

Beaver Local Reserves Top Minerva In Finale

Beaver Local's reserve squad finished the season with a 6-1 record after defeating Minerva, 18-0, in its finale Saturday.

Francis Possage ran 60 yards for one touchdown, George Gaydos went 8 yards and Dave Derenburger intercepted a pass and ran it back 50 yards for another.

Married Player Banned, Father Files Complaint

TROY, Ohio (AP)—A court hearing is scheduled Saturday on a father's request that a school board be prevented from banning his son from high school athletics simply because the boy is married.

Ernest Saul of nearby Fletcher, Rt. 1, filed a petition in Miami County Common Pleas Court Monday asking for a restraining order against the Miami East school board and School Supt. Howard Nace.

"Saul said in his petition that his son, James, 17, was not allowed to try out for the varsity basketball team and other sports at Miami East High School solely because he was a married student.

The petition called the board's order "unreasonable, discriminatory and an arbitrary exercise of its authority."

Supt. Nace said that under state law the school board has complete authority over the school's extra-curricular activities. School regulations, he added, prevent married students from playing in varsity sports.

Young Saul, a senior who was married last August, was not allowed to join basketball practice sessions which started Nov. 1, the petition said.

He has participated in varsity basketball and track since his junior high school days.

His father said James is planning to be a physical education instructor and coach after college graduation, and that his participation in high school sports is important preparation for his proposed life work.

The elder Saul said his son had reason to believe he would receive an $8,000 college athletic scholarship but that his chances of getting it "will be greatly jeopardized and lessened" if he's not allowed to play in high school athletics.

Purdue's Allen Third In Big 10 Scoring Race

Ferguson has piled up 12 touchdowns for 72 points and a two-touchdown lead over runnerup Wilburn Hollis of Iowa. Hollis has 10 touchdowns for 60 points.

Bernie Allen of Purdue and Jim Rogers of Minnesota are battling for third place. Allen has 48 points and Rogers 47.

Memorial Service Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—A memorial service for Barnett W. Taylor, 73, who served as principal of East Technical High School for 20 years, will be held Wednesday in Epworth-Euclid Methodist Church. He died Sunday. Taylor retired four years ago after serving in the Cleveland public school system nearly 50 years.

Most Modern Prison

TOULOUSE, France (AP) — What the French call the world's most modern prison — complete with swimming pool and a hotel for visitors—will soon be built in nearby Muret. The $30-million structure, on 24.7 acres, will have a movie theater, athletic field, gym, television room and chapel.

Royals Purchase 6-Foot-7 Farmer From New York

CINCINNATI (AP)—Seeking to add much needed strength in the forecourt, the Cincinnati Royals have bought 6-foot-7 Mike Farmer from the New York Knickerbockers. He is scheduled to be in uniform for tonight's game here with the Philadelphia Warriors.

Farmer, who attended San Francisco University, is in his third year of pro basketball. He scored 435 points for a 6.0 average with the Knicks in 1958-59 and 494 points for a 7.4 average last year. He has played only six minutes this season.

The Royals have been unable to come up with anyone thus far to give Jack Twyman a lift in the forecourt. They even tried 6-5 Oscar Robertson for a time in one game last week but quickly shifted him to the backcourt again.

The team now has lost four straight after a fast start and the record is 6-7.

Does it make sense to pay a big-car price for one of the new-name compacts? They lack compact economy—they lack big-car comfort. You can actually save money by driving a 1961 Ford Fairlane instead!
Believe it or not, this full-size Ford Fairlane actually costs less to buy than some "compromise compacts" . . . up to $84.48 less.* Yet it offers more passenger room, more luggage room, a longer, steadier-going wheelbase, more weight, more beef, more brawn. More of everything, and in addition, you get a car that saves you many dollars in operating costs. Because like all '61 Fords, this Fairlane is beautifully built to take care of itself. Come in for the whole savings story today.
HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF
Lubricates itself. You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.
Guards its own muffler. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
Protects its own body. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Beaver Local Board Adopts Tax Rate Cut

The board accepted the recommended amounts and rates of the County Budget Commission, making the total district school tax 25 mills, down from the 26.1 mills of the current year.

School operating levies will total 17.6 mills—4.6 mills within the 10-mill maximum and 13 mills operating levies approved by voters —plus 6.9 mills for bond retirement and .5 mill for the state building program.

The levies will bring in $188,694 for operating costs, $73,976 for bond retirement and $5,361 for the state building program.

Discussion was held with William McNutt, East Liverpool insurance agent, on a proposed revision of general coverage policies on school buildings with a $100 deductible provision. The board will study the plan in preparation for renewal of policies in January.

Tuition was approved for a district girl — Lynn Adams — to attend high school at East Palestine because of the transportation advantage. A study of a transportation problem at Apples Corners was authorized.

The next meeting will be Dec. 12.

Boy Scout Troop Officers Named

Two new officers were appointed for newly-organized Lawrenceville Boy Scout Troop 49 at a meeting Monday evening in the fire hall.

Jack Stover accepted the position of secretary and Charles Angle, treasurer. Troop meetings will be held every two weeks on Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the Lawrenceville fire hall. The next will be Wednesday and the following Nov. 23.

The troop committee will meet the second week of each month on Wednesday at a committeeman's home.

Boys 10½ to 14 who are interested in joining the troop are urged to attend its meetings. Parents are also invited.

Sherman Williams, committee chairman, presided. Bob Hood is scoutmaster. Others of the committee include Perry Wright and Vernon Whittington, assistant scoutmasters, and Guy Micheals.

Salineville Man Gets Term In Reformatory

LISBON — Gerald Edward Raffle, 24, of Salineville was sentenced to 1-20 years at the Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield Monday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Raffle was indicted by the January Grand Jury, pleaded guilty and requested probation, which he received.

On Sept. 12, he was given a hearing for parole violation after he was returned from New York state and was given another chance. He was then cited again by Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose when he again violated his terms and then was sentenced by Judge Buzzard.

Test Borings Start On Shippingport Span

Test borings for the Shippingport bridge are expected to be completed Dec. 2, the South Beaver County Civic Association reported.

Twelve test holes are scheduled for two piers on the right shoreline of the Ohio River and one pier on the left shoreline. The bridge will link Midland and Shippingport. The tests are being made by a West Virginia firm.

Some 40 members of the association will tour the Shippingport atomic power plant Thursday at 7 p. m. They will meet at 6:45 p. m. at the plant parking lot. Arrangements were made through the Duquesne Light Co. by William Littell.

6 Motorists Forfeit Bonds In County Court

LISBON — Six out-of-county motorists forfeited bonds totaling $110 Monday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court when they failed to appear for hearings.

Roderick Harrelson, 66, of Smiths Ferry, John J. Young, 34, of Ravenna and Walter Schwenk, 20, of Cleveland forfeited $15 each for speeding. Others were:

Blake C. Auble, 34, of Canton, $25 for operating a motor vehicle on expired license; John S. Kosegi, 54, of Struthers, $20 for passing without assured clear distance, and Boyd E. Wilfong, 20, of Warren, $20 for crossing a yellow line in a hazardous zone. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Firemen Plan Dinner

IRONDALE — Volunteer firemen will meet tonight at 7 in the station to complete plans for a public ham and meat loaf dinner to be served in the recreation room of the Masonic Temple Thursday night from 5 to 7. The department is planning to sponsor a dinner each month, Chief Oliver Nicholson reported.

Plane Found, Body Of Pilot In Wreckage

ELKINS, W. Va. (AP) — Searchers early today located the charred wreckage of a small plane that crashed Sunday night on a snow-covered peak near here. The body of the pilot was still inside the rubble.

Civil Air Patrol officials said the victim was identified tentatively as retired Air Force Col. Nelson P. (Pete) Jackson, 49, of Severna Park, Md. He was burned badly by the fire which destroyed the plane.

Shortly before last midnight, the CAP searchers reached Spruce Knob, highest point in West Virginia at 4,860 feet, and started spreading out. The area is some of the most rugged in the eastern states.

The scene is in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia near the Virginia - West Virginia border, some 40 miles southeast of here. The wreckage was three miles north of Spruce Knob.

Jackson, World War II air hero decorated 19 times, and Bell left Rose Valley, Md., Sunday night in a light plane belonging to the Pentagon Aero Club. They were on their way to New Philadelphia, Ohio.

Jackson was Washington representative of Joy Manufacturing Co., Pittsburgh. Bell, formerly associated with Litton Industries, Inc., of Rockville, Md., was the father of one child, an infant.

Jackson became the fourth youngest regular officer in the armed forces to attain the permanent grade of colonel in 1948. He was the father of three sons and two daughters.

Man Bound Over In Burglary Case

LISBON — Joseph Volke, 23, of North Lima was bound over to the January Grand Jury Monday under $2,000 bond by County Judge Earl Spaulding for breaking and entering the Coy Garage on Route 422 between Columbiana and New Waterford. He took $1,000 worth of tools, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

A 17-year-old Columbiana youth implicated in the theft will be given a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Nov. 28.

Norman R. McLaughlin, 21, of North Lima was also bound over under $1,000 bond by Judge Spaulding yesterday for burglary of the home of John Faulkner of Clarkson. Fishing equipment and a tire and wheel were taken.

Sheriff VanFossan filed the charges and both Volke and McLaughlin are confined to the County Jail in lieu of bonds.

Beaver Local Board Adopts Tax Rate Cut

A reduced school tax rate for 1961 was accepted by the Beaver Local Board of Education during a meeting Monday night.

The board accepted the recommended amounts and rates of the County Budget Commission, making the total district school tax 25 mills, down from the 26.1 mills of the current year.

School operating levies will total 17.6 mills—4.6 mills within the 10-mill maximum and 13 mills operating levies approved by voters —plus 6.9 mills for bond retirement and .5 mill for the state building program.

The levies will bring in $188,694 for operating costs, $73,976 for bond retirement and $5,361 for the state building program.

Discussion was held with William McNutt, East Liverpool insurance agent, on a proposed revision of general coverage policies on school buildings with a $100 deductible provision. The board will study the plan in preparation for renewal of policies in January.

Tuition was approved for a district girl — Lynn Adams — to attend high school at East Palestine because of the transportation advantage. A study of a transportation problem at Apples Corners was authorized.

The next meeting will be Dec. 12.

Defiance Trustees Plan To Replace Building

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — The Defiance College board of trustees will meet Nov. 26 to plan for a new building to replace the major classroom unit on the campus, Weston Hall, destroyed by a Sunday night fire. President Kevin McCann said meetings already are being arranged with architects.

Richard Wohn, college director of development, estimated it would cost around $1 million to replace Weston Hall and its equipment. No one was injured when fire of undetermined cause swept through the building.

Cited For Manslaughter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Clyde Felder, 20, was charged with manslaughter Monday in the death of her 8-month-old daughter, Chris, who died from malnutrition in St. Vincent Charity Hospital Oct. 30. Authorities said the mother failed to provide the necessary medical care for her daughter.

Safety Film Shown PTA

A representative of a Pittsburgh insurance firm spoke on safety and screened a film at a meeting of the South Side Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening in the elementary school near Hookstown.

Dan Sullivan discussed "Is Your Child Safe?" and screened a film on safety, "Miracle In Paradise Valley." An amateur magician, he performed tricks during the evening.

Parents and teachers held an informal interview. John Didich elementary teacher, and Mrs. Sarah Patterson, dietitian of both the elementary and high school, were interviewed.

Mrs. Franklin Walker gave a report on the state PTA convention she attended recently. There were also reports by Mrs. Jack Smith, ways and means chairman, Mrs. Earl Gosnell, membership, and Mrs. Ford Dawson, publicity.

It was reported that at a meeting of homeroom mothers last month at the home of Mrs. Gosnell, Mrs. Charles Fazikas was appointed chairman and Mrs. Lyle Kiffer, co-chairman of elementary homeroom mothers, and Mrs. Robert Dawson, chairman and Mrs. Rowena Bishop, co-chairman, of high school homeroom mothers.

The attendance banners were won by Mrs. Gail Jones' room in the high school and Mrs. Mildred Faulk's room in the elementary. The Rev. Milo Smith, pastor of the Free Methodist Church near Hookstown, led devotions. Group singing was led by Harry Lutton, accompanied by Mrs. James Goodwin.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee with Mrs. Earl Irons chairman. Mrs. Ward Powell Jr. presided. She was recently appointed to take the place of Carl Walcott as vice president.

Next meeting is Dec. 12.

William Talbott New Head Of Shrine Club

William F. Talbott, president, heads a slate of new officers elected and installed when the East Liverpool Shrine Club met Monday night in the Masonic Temple. About 45 attended.

Others elected are Irvin J. Vorndran, first vice president; Edwin C. Ring, second vice president; John W. Pryor Jr., secretary, and Charles E. Allison, treasurer.

Lunch was served. The next meeting is Dec. 12.

County Alumni Of OSU Set Meeting Wednesday

Dr. John E. Corbally Jr., director of the personnel budget of Ohio State University, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Ohio State Alumni Club of Columbiana County Wednesday night at 6:30 at the Country Club.

More than 80 are expected. Dr. Corbally will discuss the problems facing higher education and emphasize the university's "missions" of instruction research and service, pointing out how a comprehensive university provides quality opportunity for study in nearly all fields.

Dr. Myer Alpern, president, will preside. Group singing will be led by Milton Watson accompanied by Mrs. Earl Neiser.

The club also will elect officers and directors. The nominating committee is headed by William Leser and Miss Shirley Hartt.

The theme of the meeting, "Grassroots," will be followed in the decorations. The committee includes Mrs. Marvin Kinsey, Mrs. Herschel Rubin, Miss Gladys DeBolt, Mrs. William Dunlap, Mrs. Kenneth Koos, Mrs. Donald Thompson, Mrs. Francis H. Lang and Mrs. Sidney C. Porter Jr.

State representatives and state senators have been invited, along with the parents of students now attending Ohio State.

Dr. Corbally, 36, has held his post for slightly more than a year after serving since 1955 as associate professor of education and coordinator of field studies and services in the College of Education.

A native of South Bend, Wash., he received his bachelor's degree from the University of Washington in 1947 and his master's degree in 1950. He was awarded his doctorate in 1955 from the University of California, where he had served two years as a consultant for the Field Service Center of the School of Education.

DR. JOHN CORBALLY JR.
Official To Speak.

Active in educational affairs, Dr. Corbally has served on the editorial advisory board of a magazine devoted to school administrators and has published articles in several periodicals. He also is co-author of a text on a secondary school administration. He served three years in the Navy with a rank of lieutenant (j.g.).

Production of pulp and paper has increased 850 per cent in the last 50 years.

McCartan Glad Rangers Sent Him To Minors

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack McCartan, goal-tending star of the 1960 U.S. Olympic ice hockey champions, is happy that the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League have sent him to the minors.

"I'll get a chance to play more and get needed experience," McCartan said Monday after the Rangers notified him he was being sent to Kitchener-Waterloo in Canada's Eastern Pro League.

Ex-Fight Manager Fined In Tax Case

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Netro, former manager of boxer Carmen Basilio, has until Dec. 20 to pay a $5,000 fine for failing to file federal income tax returns on $73,093.

LA Back Named AFL Offense Star Of Week

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Kemp, tireless quarterback of the Los Angeles Chargers who engineered a 24-21 victory over Houston, was named today as American Football League player of the week on offense.

He tried 37 passes, completed 18 for 296 yards and two touchdowns and ran for 50 yards.

Kemp's award was made by a panel of AFL writers.

English Soccer Players Demanding More Pay

LONDON (AP) — Trouble is brewing in the English Soccer League, where the maximum weekly salary is 20 pounds—$56.

Players from the south of England Monday told the Professional Footballers' Association, representing 2,700 pros in England, that they are ready to strike for more money.

PGA Honors Two Young Stars And Four Of Veterans

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association honored two of its bright young stars and four of its veterans Monday night at the annual President's Dinner in Scottsdale.

Jay Herbert, Lafayette, La., the 1960 PGA champion, was honored in absentia. He was unable to make the trip west because of a conflicting celebration in his home town.

The veterans taking a bow were Warren Orlich, pro at the Tam O'Shanter Club in Chicgo, as golf professional of the year; Fred McLeod, Chevy Chase, Md.; Mike Brady, Dunedin, Fla.; and Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., all named to the Hall of Fame.

The dinner was in connection with the current 10-day conference of the PGA.

Blanda, Kemp, Staging Hot Race In AFL Passing

DALLAS (AP)—George Blanda, the Houston veteran, has gone over the 2,000-yard mark but can't shake the persistency of young Jack Kemp of Los Angeles in the struggle for the American Football League passing championship.

The two met head-on at Los Angeles Sunday, as Los Angeles won 24-21, and out of the duel came a tie for the lead. They replaced Denver's Frank Tripucka, who dropped to third.

Blanda and Kemp each had 47 points under the AFL's six-point rating system (completions, yards, touchdown passes, percentage of completions, per cent intercepted and average yards gained).

Kemp has completed 137 passes for 1,789 yards and nine touchdowns. Blanda has connected on 147 for 2,044 yards and 21 touchdowns.

Steelworkers Face SUB Slash

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A United Steelworkers official says present trends show that 17 of the 18 largest steel producers in the country will reduce supplementary benefits to furloughed workers by 25 per cent or more.

John F. Tomayko, USW director of insurance, pensions and unemployment benefits, said yesterday that unemployed steelworkers face the cutback by next February. He added:

Heavy payments to unemployed steelworkers and lower contributions to the reserve funds for layoff benefits were cited by Tomayko as the reasons for the cutback.

He did not indicate the number of unemployed workers that could be affected.

Youth Shot By Game Warden Reported 'Fair'

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A 17-year-old Austintown youth, shot by a game warden on Meander Lake, was reported in fair condition in South Side Hospital today. Sheriff's deputies said Roger Herrell and a companion were spotted by Game Warden Ellwood Ressler Monday while they were shooting ducks out of season.

The deputies quoted Ressler as saying he ordered the youths to halt and fired a shot over their heads. When one of the youths reached into their boat for a shotgun and returned the fire, Ressler fired again and hit Herrell in the face and shoulder, deputies said.

4 Steers And 50 Pigs Killed In Farm Blaze

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP) — Four steers and 50 pigs perished Monday in a fire that destroyed three buildings on the farm of James Yingling on Ohio 4 east of here. The blaze also destroyed 45 tons of fodder.

Thirty-eight other steers were saved from the blazing barn by Donald P. Traci, 33-year-old Cleveland attorney, who was en route to a trial in Bucyrus. Cause of the fire was not determined. Bellevue firemen estimated damage at $25,000.

Retired Man Feels 1,000 But Actually 100

Actually John Sands is 100 years old today, but he still has to take a back seat to another resident of the Seattle rest home where he lives.

McCartan Glad Rangers Sent Him To Minors

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack McCartan, goal-tending star of the 1960 U.S. Olympic ice hockey champions, is happy that the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League have sent him to the minors.

"I'll get a chance to play more and get needed experience," McCartan said Monday after the Rangers notified him he was being sent to Kitchener-Waterloo in Canada's Eastern Pro League.

Ex-Fight Manager Fined In Tax Case

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Netro, former manager of boxer Carmen Basilio, has until Dec. 20 to pay a $5,000 fine for failing to file federal income tax returns on $73,093.

LA Back Named AFL Offense Star Of Week

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Kemp, tireless quarterback of the Los Angeles Chargers who engineered a 24-21 victory over Houston, was named today as American Football League player of the week on offense.

He tried 37 passes, completed 18 for 296 yards and two touchdowns and ran for 50 yards.

Kemp's award was made by a panel of AFL writers.

English Soccer Players Demanding More Pay

LONDON (AP) — Trouble is brewing in the English Soccer League, where the maximum weekly salary is 20 pounds—$56.

Players from the south of England Monday told the Professional Footballers' Association, representing 2,700 pros in England, that they are ready to strike for more money.

PGA Honors Two Young Stars And Four Of Veterans

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association honored two of its bright young stars and four of its veterans Monday night at the annual President's Dinner in Scottsdale.

Jay Herbert, Lafayette, La., the 1960 PGA champion, was honored in absentia. He was unable to make the trip west because of a conflicting celebration in his home town.

The veterans taking a bow were Warren Orlich, pro at the Tam O'Shanter Club in Chicgo, as golf professional of the year; Fred McLeod, Chevy Chase, Md.; Mike Brady, Dunedin, Fla.; and Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., all named to the Hall of Fame.

The dinner was in connection with the current 10-day conference of the PGA.

Blanda, Kemp, Staging Hot Race In AFL Passing

DALLAS (AP)—George Blanda, the Houston veteran, has gone over the 2,000-yard mark but can't shake the persistency of young Jack Kemp of Los Angeles in the struggle for the American Football League passing championship.

The two met head-on at Los Angeles Sunday, as Los Angeles won 24-21, and out of the duel came a tie for the lead. They replaced Denver's Frank Tripucka, who dropped to third.

Blanda and Kemp each had 47 points under the AFL's six-point rating system (completions, yards, touchdown passes, percentage of completions, per cent intercepted and average yards gained).

Kemp has completed 137 passes for 1,789 yards and nine touchdowns. Blanda has connected on 147 for 2,044 yards and 21 touchdowns.

Steelworkers Face SUB Slash

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A United Steelworkers official says present trends show that 17 of the 18 largest steel producers in the country will reduce supplementary benefits to furloughed workers by 25 per cent or more.

John F. Tomayko, USW director of insurance, pensions and unemployment benefits, said yesterday that unemployed steelworkers face the cutback by next February. He added:

"These reductions will start as early as Dec. 1, just when our members need the payments most —before Christmas."

Heavy payments to unemployed steelworkers and lower contributions to the reserve funds for layoff benefits were cited by Tomayko as the reasons for the cutback.

He did not indicate the number of unemployed workers that could be affected.

Youth Shot By Game Warden Reported 'Fair'

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A 17-year-old Austintown youth, shot by a game warden on Meander Lake, was reported in fair condition in South Side Hospital today. Sheriff's deputies said Roger Herrell and a companion were spotted by Game Warden Ellwood Ressler Monday while they were shooting ducks out of season.

The deputies quoted Ressler as saying he ordered the youths to halt and fired a shot over their heads. When one of the youths reached into their boat for a shotgun and returned the fire, Ressler fired again and hit Herrell in the face and shoulder, deputies said.

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP) — Four steers and 50 pigs perished Monday in a fire that destroyed three buildings on the farm of James Yingling on Ohio 4 east of here. The blaze also destroyed 45 tons of fodder.

Thirty-eight other steers were saved from the blazing barn by Donald P. Traci, 33-year-old Cleveland attorney, who was en route to a trial in Bucyrus. Cause of the fire was not determined. Bellevue firemen estimated damage at $25,000.

Actually John Sands is 100 years old today, but he still has to take a back seat to another resident of the Seattle rest home where he lives.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool at his office until twelve o'clock noon E.S.T. November 30 1960, for a contract of lease to the City of a two-way radio system for the Police Department and for the maintenance of said equipment and replacement as needed to meet the requirements of the Federal Communications Commission as they may be changed from time to time, and according to specifications now on file in the office of the said Director.

Said contract shall be for a period of five (5) years and may include provisions for advance rentals and monthly rental payments. Said bids shall have the alternate provisions as follows:

A. Monthly rental payments, part of which shall pay for the cost of the equipment, resulting in ownership by the city at the end of the contract period.

B. Monthly rental payments resulting in no change of ownership.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool or by a bid bond in the amount of 5% of the first year rental as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.
